

"The insurgents in Buenos Ayres are still victorious."
"Rev. Robert Laird Collier died of paralysis yesterday."

Times.

"A queer story told the police by two women from San Francisco yesterday."

"Fresh retorts on the races next week are about all completed."

PRICE: (Single Copies 5 Cents)
By the Week, 3 Cents

LOS ANGELES, MONDAY, JULY 28, 1890.

NINTH YEAR.

Line Schedule.

IN EFFECT FROM MARCH 1, 1900.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS. ("Wanted," "For Sale," etc.), 5 cents per line for each insertion, payable at the counter, or $1.50 per line per month.

SQUARE ADVERTISEMENTS. DISPLAY.

RUN OF THE PAPER, $2.75 per square per month, with extra charges for preferred positions, ranging from 10 to 25 per cent, and an equitable scale of discounts for regular and large advertisers. One square contains 6 lines, one foot 12 lines, one column 36 lines of nonpareil, or 300 lines. Further information on application at the office.

READING NOTICE. In double-columned form on editorial page per line, each insertion, 10 cents; on editorial page, 20 cents; on single-columned nonpareil, 15 cents; by the month, $2.25 per line; solid nonpareil, 10 cents per line each insertion; by the month, $1.50 per line. Professional cards, 10 cents per line, 75 cents per month. Marriages and deaths, free. Funeral notices and obituaries, 15 cents per line.

MIRROR ADVERTISING RATES: Transients (under one month) 60 cents per square for each insertion. One month and over, one-third off full daily rates, with the regular percentages for position added. Professional cards, 10 cents per line, 75 cents per month. Marriages and deaths, free. Funeral notices and obituaries, 15 cents per line.

Address (Telephone No. 39)
THE TIMES-MIRROR CO.,
Times Building,
Los Angeles, Cal.

Amusements.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

McLain & Leman, Managers.
HAYE, OPERA HOUSE.
Three Nights and Special Matinee Wednesday. Commencing Tuesday, July 29th.
The Favorite Comedian, Mr. J. H. HAYE.

M. J. HAYE.

The original Sam of Posen, supported by FRANK BROADBENT
And a company of players in the great comedy success,
THE SHOOTING.
A Marriage Broker, by Henry Dobbins and Charles Reeds now on sale. Telephone 511.

NO. 150 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

Now on exhibition, 11 a.m. to 8 p.m., evenings, 7 to 10 p.m.
The Russian dog-faced boy, the crowning culmination of curious creation. Also UNZIE! UNZIE! UNZIE!
White Aborigine beauty, with a massive growth of white hair, 6 feet 6 inches tall.
ADMISSION: 10 CENTS. TEN CENTS.

BASE-BALL PARK.

BASE-BALL.

WATCH THE SPACE.

VIENNA BUFFET.

Cor. Main and Requesa sts., Los Angeles.
REFINED FREE
ENTERTAINMENT NIGHTLY.
Admission free. New programs and new attractions every week.
The only family resort, and a fine Austrian-Hungarian kitchen.
Popular prices and polite and attentive service guaranteed.

Special Notices.

LADIES' GENTS' AND CHILDREN'S.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

NEWSDEALERS AND SCHOOL.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

H. H. BENEDICT, MECHANIC.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

TO JOB PRINTERS: THE TIMES-MIRROR CO.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—A COMPLETE DAIRY.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—ONE OF THE LARGEST.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

HOTEL—A RARE CHANCE FOR.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—THE BEST PAYING.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—A WELL-ESTABLISHED.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—A WELL-ESTABLISHED.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

$1000 WILL BUY A HALF IN.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—LUNCH COUNTER, SIT.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—THE JUNCTION MILLS.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—DRUG STORE, ON AC.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

THE FINEST OPPORTUNITY TO.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—ONE OF THE BEST.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—A BARGAIN, OLD.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—GROCERY, IN BEST LO.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

FOR SALE—A FINE PHOTOGRAPH.

Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles. Dr. J. H. HAYE, 111 W. Second St., Los Angeles.

Red Rice's.

LOS ANGELES, SUNDAY, JULY 27TH.

Red Rice's friends have numbered them as would be found to be legion. If Red Rice's friends were counted they would number only as the fingers on your hand. It is not for these or those who write these lines, because they already know of us and our ways, but for the stranger and the one not yet made acquainted with the advantage of Red Rice's great mark of trade: these we say, we want your cash trade. Our manner of doing business is this: We buy wherever and whenever we can get good goods cheap; our stock consists mostly of household goods, although we get about everything. Our fair motto is: always selling, always buying. Our goods are always cheap, and we can do so much cheaper than others. In certain lines we carry an immense stock of new goods. Of these we order in large quantities for cash, getting the benefit of all discounts and of all overstocks. We can always sell you the same goods, be they new or second hand, cheaper than others, and yet make profit. We will be very pleased to have you call, investigate and get prices. There is Furniture, Carpets, Crochets, Glassware, Agateware, Tinware, Crockery, Towels, Hardware, Marbles, Hose, Toys, etc. This list adds thousands of articles that you will not have enumerated all the things that are at RED RICE'S. Seeing that the main store is at 143 and 145 E. Main st., between First and Second sts. The branch is at 436 and 438 E. Spring st.

Wanted—Miscellaneous.

WANTED—1000 CAMPERS AT LONG.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN WITH.

WANTED—A MAN WITH BRAINS.

WANTED—THE RESIDENTS OF.

WANTED—SECOND-HAND FURNI.

WANTED—SECOND-HAND FURNI.

WANTED—GOODS OF ALL KINDS.

WANTED—FURNITURE, LARGE OR.

WANTED—FAMILY HOBBIES.

WANTED—CALL ON NARROW.

WANTED—OLD HARNESSES.

WANTED—A SECOND-HAND IN.

For Exchange.

FOR EXCHANGE—ILLINOIS FARM.

FOR EXCHANGE—FOR HOUSE AND.

FOR EXCHANGE—TWO NICE COT.

FOR EXCHANGE—WE HAVE SEV.

FOR EXCHANGE—FOR CITY PROP.

FOR EXCHANGE—54 ACRES, NO. 1.

FOR EXCHANGE—IMPROVED AND.

FOR EXCHANGE—100 ACRES IN.

FOR EXCHANGE—200 ACRES IN.

FOR EXCHANGE—TWO GOOD RES.

Excursions.

ROCK ISLAND ROUTE EXCURSIONS.

GO TO THE MOUNTAINS—BEAT.

WALTERS'S SELECT EXCURSIONS.

PHILLIPS'S EXCURSION TO THE.

Business Personal.

PERSONAL—"ECONOMIC" PRICES.

PERSONAL—DRESS, CLOAK AND.

PERSONAL—GALER'S PRINTING.

PERSONAL—JAMES, MEET ME AT.

PERSONAL—R. A. BROWN, MER.

Rooms and Board.

ST. ANGELO HOTEL, GRAND AVE.

HOTEL LINCOLN, COR. SECOND.

Wanted—Miscellaneous.

WANTED—1000 CAMPERS AT LONG.

WANTED—YOUNG MAN WITH.

WANTED—A MAN WITH BRAINS.

WANTED—THE RESIDENTS OF.

WANTED—SECOND-HAND FURNI.

WANTED—SECOND-HAND FURNI.

WANTED—GOODS OF ALL KINDS.

WANTED—FURNITURE, LARGE OR.

WANTED—FAMILY HOBBIES.

WANTED—CALL ON NARROW.

WANTED—OLD HARNESSES.

WANTED—A SECOND-HAND IN.

For Exchange.

FOR EXCHANGE—ILLINOIS FARM.

FOR EXCHANGE—FOR HOUSE AND.

FOR EXCHANGE—TWO NICE COT.

FOR EXCHANGE—WE HAVE SEV.

FOR EXCHANGE—FOR CITY PROP.

FOR EXCHANGE—54 ACRES, NO. 1.

FOR EXCHANGE—IMPROVED AND.

FOR EXCHANGE—100 ACRES IN.

FOR EXCHANGE—200 ACRES IN.

FOR EXCHANGE—TWO GOOD RES.

Excursions.

ROCK ISLAND ROUTE EXCURSIONS.

GO TO THE MOUNTAINS—BEAT.

WALTERS'S SELECT EXCURSIONS.

PHILLIPS'S EXCURSION TO THE.

Business Personal.

PERSONAL—"ECONOMIC" PRICES.

PERSONAL—DRESS, CLOAK AND.

PERSONAL—GALER'S PRINTING.

PERSONAL—JAMES, MEET ME AT.

PERSONAL—R. A. BROWN, MER.

Rooms and Board.

ST. ANGELO HOTEL, GRAND AVE.

HOTEL LINCOLN, COR. SECOND.

STILL FIGHTING.

Bloodshed in the Streets of Buenos Ayres.

Government Troops Defeated by the Insurgent Bands.

The Rebels Reinforced by Battalions of Disaffected Soldiers.

The Struggle in Central America—

Salvadorans Reported to Have

Again Completely Routed the Guatemalan Troops.

By Telegram to The Times.

LONDON, July 27.—[By Cable and

Associated Press.] A dispatch sent from Buenos Ayres at 5 o'clock yesterday says that fighting was still going on at that hour, and that many had been killed and wounded on both sides.

BUENOS AYRES, July 27.—Gen.

Campos and Arredondo, commanding the insurgents, have seized the arsenal, barracks and Plaza Lavalle. Their forces include five military and two citizen battalions and a cadet corps.

The government commands seven battalions, and expects reinforcements from Zarate. The street conflicts on Saturday were adverse to the government.

The losses on both sides were heavy.

Many buildings were destroyed. The navy remains neutral. Señor Pellegrini, the Vice-President, has assumed the Presidency.

At 1:30 p.m. another battalion of troops, with arms and baggage, joined the insurgents. The populace supports the revolution, which was extended to the province. The authorities are negotiating with the insurgents.

LONDON, July 27.—A dispatch to the Times from Buenos Ayres regarding yesterday's revolt says: The first steps at overthrowing the government were taken by the artillery joined by some civilians. Part of the infantry afterward joined them and the firing soon became heavy. In the afternoon the revolutionary government issued a declaration ordering the mobilization of the national guard. Late in the afternoon attacks were made by government troops on the citizens' battalions. The troops were repulsed. Many policemen, artisans and citizens are being one of the cabin stewards.

The Minister of War is reported to have been shot.

Here the cable dispatch to the Times was abruptly shut off.

SALVADOR WINS AGAIN.

Guatemalans Defeated in Another

Encounter.

LA LIBERTAD (Salvador), July 27.—

[By the Associated Press.] It is reported from unofficial sources that the Salvadoran troops made an advance from Atacampo on the Jutiapa and again met the Guatemalan army, with the usual disastrous results to the latter, which has been again badly defeated and is in full retreat on the Jutiapa, followed by the victorious

Salvadorans.

CITY OF MEXICO, July 27.—Several revolutionary bands are marauding near the Mexican frontier in Guatemalan territory. Both Guatemala and Salvador are trying to make troops with the utmost haste, but Guatemala finds difficulty in the dissatisfaction of the soldiers.

RICHFIELD SPRINGS (N. Y.), July 27.—

A dispatch received here today by an official of the Guatemalan government says that Guatemala accepts the war provoked by Salvador, and will continue it until Salvador elbows a legitimate President in place

THE NATION'S LAWMAKERS.

Programme of the Week in Senate and House.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The tariff will be the principal theme discussed in the Senate this week. It is impossible to say how long the general debate will last, as almost every Democratic Senator is understood to have a formal speech prepared for delivery. Advocates of the bill to transfer the revenue marine from the Treasury to the Navy department will call it up in the morning hour. Unless the demand for the River and Harbor Bill grows stronger than at present, the managers will not endeavor to bring it before the Senate this week.

In the House the Sundry Civil Bill is SPORTING NEWS.

California Pacers and Trotters in the East.

SOME FINE PERFORMANCES.

Preparations at Agricultural Park for the Coming Races—Horses
Already on the Ground—
More Coming.

The past week has proven a great one for California trotters and pacers.
The game racers from the Golden State have been throwing dust into the faces of the eastern cracks and golden dust into the pockets of their owners in a manner marvelous to behold. The breed is in the habit

Western turntables have been in the habit of sneering at California records. It was always claimed that the watches held on our race-horses out West were always too speedy and unreliable. A few more weeks like last week will pretty nearly remove all doubts about the ability of California-bred horses to beat up time. Sunol's record of half a mile in 1:02 1/2 is such perfectly easy money that the spectators could scarcely realize that the game was really being annihilated. Marvin, her driver, has always claimed that Sunol can beat 004: Maud S's time, and the record, whenever she is fit, and he calls upon her to do so, and from her recent performance at Detroit there is no reason to doubt Marvin's claim. Senator Stanford's looks to see Senol trot in 004 possibly this season, but Marvin will probably be saluted as the longer runner. S. Edmund S. will return Senol to her owner, Robert Bonner, as queen of the turf, and earn the $1000 bill promised him whenever he does so. Margaret S., the winner of the $9500 stake at Detroit last week, was too speedy for her company. Allerton beat her one beat in 2:18, but Margaret distanced her field in 2:16½. Palo Alto won an easy race, and will dispose of Jack just as easily in their match race or $10,000 next Saturday at Detroit. Jack spent last winter in Los Angeles. He is a gray horse, rather under-sized and not very fancy looking, but last season was the best campaigner on the turf. His record is 2:15 and he is matched against Palo Alto, #122, for a sweepstakes of $5000 a side, best two in five, to take place next Saturday at Detroit.

Semicolon and Cricket, both Cali-

Among the bang-tails but little has been done. Senator Hearst's Rhone last Saturday on a muddy track in 1:40 and a mile on Monmouth, a magnificent performance considering the condition of the track. Albert Cooper, the new trainer, seems to have more luck than Matt Allen with Senator Hearst's table. ♠

AT AGRICULTURAL PARK.
The Times correspondent paid a visit to Agricultural Park yesterday to interview the new arrivals. The press begin a week from today, and already the track presents a scene of bustle and activity. Jockeys, drivers, trainers, rubbers and attendants are on hand by the dozens. Quarter boots, sulkeys, saddles and bridles are strewn around the various stables promiscuously. The colored attendants of the different stables congregate under the trees and indulge in their usual game of "craps." Trainers sit around and swap lies, and the spectators take in the lull. The rubbers fondle their horses incessantly, and dilate upon the ease with which their special charms will et a slice of the big purses next week. The trainers of the bang-tails look down upon the trainers of the side wheelers and trotters, and the heroes of the sulky return the indifference and contempt with interest. There is the usual amount of horse talk, horse smell and horse profanity. Out of the stalls, the heads of the equine candidates for turf honors, are poked at the visitor to be caressed and admired. The attendant will tell you how speedy his animal is, and how easy he will win his race.

The Owens brothers of Fresno arrived yesterday morning with their trung of first-class horses. All of the horses arrived in good condition, and took exceedingly well. Daisy D., the same mare belonging to this stable, came prancing into the grounds, kicking her heels up in the air and looking like a race horse all over. She is in first-class condition, and the horse that beats her will know that he has been beaten in a horse race. Again, Al, another of our one belonging to this stable, in good shape and ought to do well. They have Kiro, their 2-year-old, looking good and ready to race. Barbaro, a gray trotter with a record of 2:30, is also in the string. The Owens brothers are ardent lovers of the turf, and bear a splendid reputation as honest turfmen. The public can rest assured whenever they start a horse in a race he is out to win.

Appleby's string is on the ground and receiving their daily work. Raindrop looks and moves nicely, and is going to prove dangerous company for her field.

Odette, the game little sprinter, met with a bad accident yesterday morning while at work on the track. In doing a slow mile she struck a stone back to the stable hardly able to walk, and it is doubtful if she will be able to race again this year.

The bay mare Carmen looks nicely and is in good condition; so also is a yearling colt, Wild Idle colt, belonging to this string.

Senator Rose has Peri at the track receiving regular work.

George Hinds of Wilmington has a string of pacers and trotters at the track undergoing preparation for the coming races.

Four Aces continues to improve daily, and, it is claimed at the track, can go a mile and a quarter in 2:06 without much trouble. As a 2-year-old, Four Aces was a very clever animal, but after that was mismanaged and badly trained, with the result that he has never been finished last. Under the new ownership, however, he continues to improve daily.

Gladiator, belonging to Lucky Baldwin, and who is entered in several of the races next week fell through a bridge at Santa Anita yesterday and was badly hurt.

The northern representatives of runners and trotters will arrive all this week at the racetrack, and the present indications are favorable for the most successful meeting ever seen in the district.

KENILWORTH.

One of the unclaimed horses recently recovered by Sheriff Seymour of San Bernardino from the horsethief Willson was claimed by his wife and turned over to her, but a few moments afterward the legitimate owner turned up from Los Angeles and took the horse.

"Weak and weary" describes the condition of many people debilitated by the warm weather, by disease or overwork. Sarsaparilla is just the medicine needed to build up and strengthen the body, purify and quicken the sluggish blood and restore the appetite.

GOOD POKER STORIES.

Well-known Men Tell About the American Game.

SOME VERY EXCITING MOMENTS

Experienced by Billy Florence—Ex-Gov. Foster, De Wolf Hopper, Frank Hutton and Others Relate Tales.

[COPYRIGHTED, 1890—FOR THE TIMES.] No game is likely to succeed the great American game of draw poker, and at this season of the year it serves to while away an idle hour on the rail, in the mountain camp, on the deck of the beamed yacht, or in the dull watches of the seaside hotel. If all the good poker stories that have been told could be collected and put into book form, the result would be a volume of absorbing interest. Below will be found a few good stories told by men whose names are household words:

BILLY FLORENCE TELLS SOME GOOD STORIES.

"While poker is considered a national game, I must confess," said Billy Florence, the actor, "that I have seen it played chiefly in an international way—i. e., on board British steamships carrying American passengers. I only play cards en route to Europe to pass away the time—nothing else—and then I do not gamble. Once, some years ago, I was playing a theatrical engagement in Louisville, Ky., and I was invited to visit and participate in a late supper after the performance was over. Among those who were to be at the supper was the noted editor, Henry Watterson. The theatrical performance was very long, and it was getting near midnight when I arrived at the bachelor apartments. I had no sooner arrived than I noticed some little excitement among the gentlemen present. It seems that a game of draw poker had been started, and that a big sum of money was being bet. I was being made of money. I had no alterative but to await developments, and they came soon enough. A big dispute arose across the table, and in an instant Watterson was on his feet, pistol in hand, and trying to aim at his antagonist, a well-known gentleman. I knew that had, and was going to be shed right there, so I jumped up and threw my arms around the editor. Others caught his arm and kept it up so if the pistol was discharged it would only damage the ceiling.

Watterson's little joke on Raymond.

"The other gentleman was ferocious, and although he was held by strong men, I thought he would break loose every second and fire right into us. Great beads of perspiration stood out upon my forehead. I pleaded with the Kentucky not to shoot; that he would regret it. The more I pleaded and tried to keep his pistol aimed at me, the more he attempted to break away. Every instant I expected to hear the crack, crack of revolvers and see the reeling form of a gentleman perforated with a large bullet. I pictured the direful consequences and the blame. The latter could partially be laid, at least, rest upon me, because I was the guest of the evening and the gathering was in my honor. In our struggle to keep the two men apart, tables were overturned, chairs were knocked over, and the money on the table somehow disappeared like magic. Finally I caught Watterson's pistol in my hand and then the lamentable truth flashed like an electric shock through me, to wit: I was being gamed and the whole fight was concocted to get the money. The pistol was nothing but a boot-jack, one that is small and when folded resembles the shape of a pistol. I was completely taken in and I need scarcely say that the 'smiles' were on me. That was the most exciting game of poker that I ever indulged in.

"A funny game of poker was played in Texas just at the beginning of the war. Col. Jack W., who afterward lived in New Orleans, was the hero of this poker story. He was Colonel of a Texas regiment that had just been mustered into the service. They had been in camp until they were sent to the front, and about half the men in the regiment were rather strait-laced and orthodox in their views, while the other half were fond of sport, cards, dice, dog-fights and all games of chance. One night a thundering big game of draw poker was going on in the Colonel's shanty. Candles were lit and five men sat around an improvised table, deeply absorbed in the game, and betting largely but cautiously. A good deal of money was bet. The jack pot when Col. W. opened it for $20. Three others stood the open and one passed out, leaving only four to draw. Now the Colonel, by some miracle of luck, held a full hand. Just as the dealer asked him how many cards he would take, there came a rap at the door and a voice asking if Col. W. was there. There was no mistaking the voice of the chaplain, and in a second every candle was extinguished. The Colonel whispered: 'Don't touch the pot or move a card until I get rid of him.' He went to the door and the chaplain came partly in. The Colonel held the door open with one hand and with the other hand he kept a tight grip upon his five winning cards. After the interchange of a few words the chaplain said in a mournful voice:

"Well, Kernel, the boy is dead and we want to give him a big military funeral." The boy was a young man who came from the upper part of Texas and enlisted when the regiment was first organized. He was a good soldier and a veteran, although no battle or skirmish had been thrust upon the regiment. The Colonel wanted the boy to have a military funeral and told the chaplain to go ahead and do it in style. Then he whispered aside to the four players not to touch or disarrange the cards. Instead of going, the chaplain dallied to get information about a military funeral. Now, under ordinary circumstances the Colonel would have kept the candles lighted and permitted the game to go on, but he was elected Colonel on the strength of being very strait-laced, and he did not wish to appear in a different guise to his constituents, at least, one-half of them.

"Ain't music used, Kernel, in a military funeral?" asked the chaplain. "The Colonel said: 'Yes, wait till off with fiddles and drums.' And added that the body would be borne on the shoulders of four or six soldiers. In fact the Colonel was not so well posted himself. It was the first military funeral in Texas during the Confederacy.

"Ain't we got to shoot over his grave, Kernel?"

"Yes, I think that is the correct military code in such cases," replied the Colonel.

"By this time the strain upon the Colonel's patience was no great one. He could hardly refrain from slamming the door in the chaplain's face.

"Ain't we—"

"It is a jackpot I opened. Oh, yes, the boy deserves a grand military send-off, chaplain," said the Colonel.

"I never heard of a jackpot," said the chaplain innocently. "Well, I have, and they are expensive, too, but that is not the kind the boy need have," concluded the Colonel.

"The chaplain went away and the Colonel raked in a hundred dollars.

"About daylight, the players heard the military funeral moving and it was almost a nondescript affair. Three fiddles, two snare drums, a brass trumpet and a triangle played the funeral dirge in a lively way. In the tune played on the fiddles was the 'Girl I Left Behind Me,' and the drums and horns filled in with sound merely. The band was in a wagon in front and the procession moved at double quick time. The body was in a small wagon drawn by three mules. The military escort had double-barrel shotguns, Mississippi rifles and old flint and steel blunderbusses. It was a motley funeral procession, and as it passed the Colonel's headquarters at double quick time the latter was betting $50 cool on a pair of sevens. Just as he raked in the money he heard a tremendous volley, followed by two more a few moments thereafter. The boy was buried, the Colonel won all the money at the poker table, and the chaplain to this day thinks the Colonel never threw a card in his life. Neither funeral nor rumors of war can stop a big game of poker when it gets under full swing."

EX-GOV. FOSTER'S STORY.

"I am not much on poker, but of course I know a little something about the game," says ex-Gov. Charles Foster of Ohio. "The funniest game of poker that I ever heard of was really a game of euchre. After the five cards had been dealt a Hebrew evince more than ordinary emotion, and finally blurted out: 'It dis vos only pokaire, I'd make dot purse of yours git empty.' His opponent replied that he was perfectly willing to play the hand as a poker one if the former would give him a queen from his hand. Immediately the Hebrew took a queen from his hand and cheerfully gave it to his opponent. The betting was rather high, several thousand dollars being staked upon the result. When the Hebrew called, his opponent quietly showed four aces and the queen, which overmatched the four kings held by the former. There was some laughter at the Hebrew's expense, but he could not see it. He said: 'Vy did ze man take ze queen? It vos foolish mit him to do so.' Any poker-player blindfolded, of course, could see the point."

TOM OCHILTREE'S BIG GAME.

"One of the largest games of poker I ever heard of was played by Col. T. Porterhouse Ochiltree," says ex-Congressman Wise of Virginia. "The Auburn-haired Texan was then upholding the dignity of a large portion of Texas as a Representative in Congress. Occasionally he devoted a few evening hours to the seductive game of poker with a number of congenial Congressmen. One morning Col. Ochiltree appeared among his colleagues looking rather fatigued, but his conversational animation was in no measure impaired. He said in his off-hand way: 'Well, I have had a great night with the boys. I never played such a game of poker before in all my life. For a time it looked as if I were going to be a second Monte Cristo. The gold of that old dreamer Tantalus began to pile up in reality before me. I bet often and I bet heavily, and I won. It was a great game, and I shall never forget it as long as I live. Yes, I lost $15,000 when the game ended. Gentlemen, the worst part of it was that $10 was in cash.' When Tom finished there was unbridled hilarity, of course, and no one doubted his thrilling poker story."

DE WOLF HOPPER HAS BEEN THERE.

"De Wolf Hopper, the comedian, says: 'Talk about getting frothy, eating eases, as Hamlet said, and losing faith in mankind: I saw a case in point last season. Now of any kind of a game that will bring out the best nature and make a Quaker roll out oaths faster than the famous troopers in Flanders, it is draw poker. I do not speak as a cynic for I have dined with the golden possibilities of a jackpot until my betting nerves have almost shaken like a leaf in a breeze. The opera company I was with last season was en route for a city out West, and a few of us whiled the tedium of the journey away by playing draw poker. Five were in the game, Eugene O'Brien, my present manager, Crippey, Digby and myself. The betting limit was two dollars and I can just tell the uninitiated that it doesn't take long to lose fifty dollars or one hundred dollars at a two-dollar limit. Oudin knew nothing about the game. He knew when he had pairs, but he did not know their betting value and so when he would pass out we breathed easier. It is hard to bet against a green player. He is liable to show up a big hand that would paralyze the scientific player and upset all calculations. A green poker player is like a mule, you never know just when or how he is going to kick you, but sooner or later you get kicked."

"As the cars with their incessant rattle, rattle and dumpty dump, rushed over miles of the track it became more and more apparent that Oudin was one of the most colossal verdant players that ever shuffled a card. Imagine how Stevens, Digby and I felt playing with an amateur that upset all of our scientific calculations. Yet we played and Bell was a loser. Naturally, he was championing the bit anxious to get a big bet and retrieve his losses. The opportunity came soon. A hand was dealt and the small antes put up. All of us passed except Bell and Oudin. The former drew three cards to two aces, and got two more aces. A perspiration of delight gathered upon Bell's brow and peculiarity almost bubbled from him, so secure he felt in being able to win back a large sum from Oudin. Bell gathered up a number of chips, put them down as if he was uncertain whether to bet or throw up his hand, and finally, in a nonchalant way, pushed up a $2 chip as a bet. His assumed a serious look, a serio-comic caricature study for an artist as he watched Oudin. His idea was that Oudin would raise him, and he (Bell) would keep coming back until he completely swamped Mr. Oudin. The latter put down a brand-new $2 bill and said: 'I call you.' Bell arose, throwing his four aces on the table, and as he did so Oudin placed his hand in view, revealing a king full, and in the king full Oudin had called Bell's $2 bet. Bell's voice to a high pitch as he shouted: 'There is no God!' then he made blue streaks in the atmosphere of the car and finally just one roar of blank, blanky blank oaths came from his lips. Four dollars won on four aces! Ye men who aspire to nobler things than blanky blank flushes pause briefly and think of four aces capturing $2 and then prate of justice, luck and hopelessness of opportunities."

"Ahi but there are games and games. One day the De Wolf Hopper family, consisting of my wife and I, were playing poker with several others for a small ante. This is not going to be a funny story although my wife won and kept the money for our household expenses. I merely tell this story to illustrate the peculiar freaks of poker hands. The little straight—two, three, four, and so I do not know but an intuitive kind of a feeling, a still, soft voice seemed to whisper into my ear: 'De Wolf, you are beaten all hollow; you are not in the game, my boy,' and yet in bravado I remained in. Some one called; and a show of hands was made, revealing a curious coincidence: We all had straights, and my wife, having the highest, raked in that pot of money for me and my heirs and assigns forever. But here comes the singular part of the coincidence: I held the smallest straight—two, three, four, and so did the venturesome gentleman who lost. I had an ace of hearts, deuce of spades, tray of diamonds—i. e., dead, a black and red straight, and, strange to say, the venturesome gentleman had a black and red straight too. It was rare, peculiar—a perfect freak—and I suppose I might play draw poker until the time of time itself crumbled and fell into the crater of chaos and nothing and yet never have a hand like it again. Much less to have a venturesome gentleman's to match. I talk about hoodoos and Jonahs, there are some men who can't sit at a poker table without queering the cards. I could tell a tale—but I hear my cue and must go on the stage to serenade 'Angelica' and a relative of a game—we all have our ante. Good-by."

Mrs. Hopper's little game on home.

FRANK HUTTON TELLS OF A FUNNY GAME.

Frank Hutton, ex-Postmaster-General and editor of the Washington Post, tells this: "Poker? What a word of uncertainty, word of vagaries up. It is hopeful, elusive, illusive, seductive and time-absorbing game. Hoyle and Gutter, indeed, all great authorities, only treat of the game in an empirical way. The science of how to win at poker is simply held by the great hands, the players, the witnesses, from whom a poker one evening in a big hotel in New York city. Three or four gentlemen were seated at the table in a private room playing a big game of jack-pot poker. It was one of those rattling, dashing games that take one's breath away, especially when one's cash is short. Maj. Blank was one of the players, and the way he won was almost miraculous. Now this Major was in the habit of saying what came to his mind, even the most critical moments of the game. A big jack-pot was made and the Major and two others stayed in. One or two bets were made and one gentleman dropped out, leaving the Major and a gentleman, who had lost nearly all in the evening, in. It was the Major's turn to say, and he bet heavily. His opponent took a small, sickly pile of chips, the remainder of a pyramid, and he gazed despairingly at them. Instead of putting up his chips he began to scratch his head with one hand and meditate. The Major gazed at him anxiously, waiting to see what he would do, call or throw up his hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up in his chair and said in a loud, determined voice: 'Well, sir, you are telling chips, not wits, and you just stop scratching your head, call or throw up your hand. The head scratching continued, and the Major's patience was soon exhausted. He half rose up

TERMS OF THE TIMES.

Published Every Day in the Year.

SENT BY CARRIER
 DAILY AND SUNDAY, per week.....$.30
 DAILY AND SUNDAY, per month..... .85
 DAILY AND SUNDAY, per quarter..... 2.25
 DAILY AND SUNDAY, per year..... 8.00
 SUNDAY, per year..... 2.00
 WEEKLY MINOR, per year..... 2.00

THE TIMES OWNS THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT FOR A MONTHLY REPUBLICAN PAPER TO BE PUBLISHED IN LOS ANGELES THE TELEGRAPHIC "WIRE REPORT" OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS, (EMBRACING THE NEW YORK ASSOCIATED PRESS AND THE WESTERN ASSOCIATED PRESS), THE GREATEST NEWS-GATHERING ORGANIZATION IN EXISTENCE. ITS REMUNERATIONS EXTEND THROUGHOUT THE CIVILIZED GLOBE, INCLUDING CABLE CONNECTIONS AND CONNECTIONS WITH THE DE REUTER, HAVAS AND WOLFF NEWS AGENCIES OF EUROPE. OUR NEWS FRANCHISE IS FOR A LONG TERM OF YEARS.

CORRESPONDENCE solicited from all quarters. Timely local topics and news given the preference. Cultivate brevity, lineateness, and a clear and pointed style. The side of the sheet only, write plainly, and send real names for the private information of the Editor.

SUBSCRIBERS, when writing to have the address of their paper changed, should also state the former address.

TIMES-MIRROR TELEPHONES.
 Business Office, No. 99
 Editorial Rooms, No. 100
 Times-Mirror Printing House, No. 453

Address
 The Times-Mirror Company,
 Times Building,
 Los Angeles, Cal.

ENTERED AT POSTOFFICE AN 2d-CLASS MATTER.

The Times

BY THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY.

H. G. OTIS,
 President and General Manager.
 Wm. A. SPALDING, J. A. McFARLAND,
 Vice-Presidents.
 MARIAN OTIS, Secretary.

Vol. XVIII.....No. 55

SAN FRANCISCO OFFICE.

The San Francisco office of THE TIMES is at 19 Montgomery street, where copies of the paper can be obtained and news or information may be left or exchanged. Col. J. H. Woodard, correspondent in charge.

THE TIMES may also be bought at the Occidental Hotel news stand, San Francisco, for five cents per copy.

THE PRICE OF THE TIMES is five cents per copy, and purchases, no matter whether at home or abroad, on railroad trains, in hotels, or elsewhere, are advised to pay no more for it. Cases of attempted extortion should be reported to this office.

A FIVE-DOLLAR PREMIUM.

The Times-Mirror Company offers to every person sending one year's cash subscription to THE DAILY TIMES—$10 in the city or $5 by mail—a copy of "THE LOS ANGELES TIMES ATLAS OF THE WORLD," (uniform with Rand, McNally & Co.'s "Standard")—the most costly and valuable premium ever given for a single newspaper subscription. The same offer is made for five subscriptions to the WEEKLY MIRROR and $10 in cash. When the atlas is sent by mail the postage is added. A well-bound book of over two hundred large pages, with a double-page map of California, free. Call at the counting-room and request sample copy. Ready for delivery to subscribers after August 1st.

FOR PEOPLE "ON THE WING."

Persons leaving the city for the summer may have THE TIMES sent by mail to any postoffice address by leaving orders at the office with the money in advance. Those at the seaside can have their papers delivered by special horse carrier, thus receiving it much earlier than if ordered through the mail. Leave your orders and addresses with the local agents:

B. W. SAUNDERS, Santa Monica.
 N. O. ANDERSON, San Pedro.
 E. J. PRATT, Redondo Beach.
 S. B. HALL, Redondo Beach.
 HUNT & HARRIST, Avalon.

Persons who are unable to procure THE TIMES at any news agency or upon any railroad train will confer a favor by reporting the fact to this office.

In the article of yesterday, "The Anglo-German Treaty," the number, "fourteen years," should have read 1814. It was in that year that Heligoland was ceded by Denmark to England. (Treaty of Kiel.)

UNDER the caption, "The Republican Stronghold," the Examiner recently had an editorial on the big Republican majority of Los Angeles county two years ago, in the course of which it made the following admission:

"The result in the State this fall will largely depend on whether the Republican majority can be held. If Los Angeles and its offshoot, Orange, are good for 3700 Republican majority, with a couple of thousand more from San Diego and San Bernardino, which usually follow Los Angeles, the Democrats will have to find 5700 majority somewhere north of Tehachapi to make good a claim to control the Legislature."

A CORRESPONDENT in Brooklyn, N. Y., sends us a clipping from the New York World containing some unfavorable remarks about the climate of California made by W. H. Crane, the actor. Our correspondent, who has spent a couple of years in this State, is quite indignant at the misrepresentation, and compares our climate with that of Brooklyn, very much to the disadvantage of the latter place. As Mr. Crane's ill-natured remarks have been done full justice to by the San Francisco press, and as our climate is good enough to stand on its own merits, we shall not give that gentleman any more free advertising here. If he prefers New York to California, let him stay there.

AMONG the rapidly-growing cities of the country there are none more remarkable than those young giants of the Northwest, St. Paul and Minneapolis, the so-called "twin cities" of Minnesota. These twins, however, entertain a most bitter hatred of each other, and the jealousy takes on all sorts of remarkable forms. Their attempts to outdo each other in the census returns has just compelled the Secretary of the Interior to order a recount of the population in both cities. It appears that in Minneapolis there was a widespread organized conspiracy for inflating the census. In St. Paul there were numerous illegal additions, but no organized fraud, as far as known. The twin cities will now have to try some new dodge to get ahead of each other. How would it do for them to see which can get up the biggest cyclone?

JUSTICE IN THE MIRE.

Our recent remarks upon the justices' courts of this city appear to have struck a popular chord, the only objection thereto being that they were not strong enough.

As far as Justice Austin and his court are concerned, our reference thereto was confined to the specific case which we mentioned. As to the two other courts, it is difficult to characterize them in sufficiently temperate language. To say that they are a disgrace to the city is but to state a fact which is admitted by all who have had the misfortune to come in frequent contact with them. It has got so far that reputable lawyers are very averse to trying cases before them. The personnel of these courts, from justice to deputy constable, appear to be combined, not to further the ends of justice, but to extort as much money as possible from litigants. It is with considerable trepidation that cash bail is put up, as its recovery is frequently a matter of difficulty. The prevailing tone in these courts suggests a social club rather than a hall of justice, unseemly levity between judge, clerk and constables being so common as to arouse no comment. The first question which arises in the mind of the lawyer who has a case before these courts is not as to the strength of his client's case, but whether the other side has any "pull" with the bench.

The climax to this disgraceful state of affairs was reached a few days ago, when one of these justices was arrested on a charge of forgery. After a hurried trial, during which he told two varying stories, he was discharged, exonerated under color of law, but not in the eyes of his fellow-citizens. Damron, who was a co-defendant with him, was held and placed under bail, which he forfeited and went into hiding. This man Damron had been a constant practitioner before Lockwood, and it was a matter of common remark that it availed little to have a case in that court, when Damron represented the other side. Damron was discovered and arrested in a vacant room, adjoining, or close to, Lockwood's apartments. This, of itself, was very suspicious, but there would have been no proof against Lockwood had not that person himself, with immeasurable and incomprehensible hardihood, calmly acknowledged, while chatting to his courthouse chums, that he had sheltered the fugitive felon. He not only freely admitted this, but said he would do the same for any other friend, under similar circumstances, and seemed ready to think he had performed a very laudable deed!

Here we have a justice of the peace sheltering from the law, which he has sworn to administer, a fugitive from justice, charged with a crime in which he himself has been implicated, and then openly in his own court, before the officials of that court, boasting of the part which he had played! Was ever a more outrageous case known in the history of modern jurisprudence? This man must actually be morally blind. He cannot distinguish between right and wrong. And yet, for the past eighteen months, he has sat upon a bench in this city, drawn a salary, and administered "justice"—save the mark! Great God! what a frightful mockery.

The proper place of Mr. "Justice" Lockwood is at the bar of the court, not on the bench. If he has the slightest regard for official propriety and public opinion he will at once hand in his resignation, rather than wait for fresh odium and further degradation, which are sure to be his portion. The spectacle of a man under bonds for a criminal offense dispensing justice from the bench would be too much, even for the stomachs of Angelenos, who have grown accustomed to almost any degree of turpitude in the justices' courts of the city.

AN ANTI-LOTTERY BILL.

The bill against lotteries at length decided upon by the House Postoffice Committee prohibits letters, circulars and tickets, lists of drawings, money or drafts for the purchase of lottery tickets, or newspapers containing lottery advertisements or drawings, from being carried in the mails or delivered by carriers, and a penalty of a fine not exceeding $5000 and imprisonment not exceeding one year is imposed upon any person depositing such matter in the mails. The Postmaster-General will also be authorized, upon evidence of the existence of a lottery or gift enterprise, to cause registered letters directed to the company to be stamped "fraudulent" and returned to the senders, and he may also forbid the payment of money-orders addressed to the lottery or gift enterprise company.

As far as stopping letters to the company is concerned that will be of little use, as the company in its advertisements specially instructs all who wish to buy tickets to address their letters to Dauphin, the secretary, or to a New Orleans bank, which is mainly supported by the company. If the clause forbidding the mailing of newspapers containing lottery advertisements is strictly carried out it will go a long way toward breaking up the lottery swindle, especially if those attractive reading notices telling how a Mr. So and So suddenly received a fortune are included in the ban. At present many of the leading newspapers of the country do more than any other agency to help the Louisiana confidence game.

LITTLE DANGER OF WAR WITH ENGLAND.

There is little serious danger of war with England over the matter of the seal fisheries. In the present conduct of British affairs it must always be borne in mind that these are the closing days of a Conservative or Tory government.

The Republicans and Democrats of the United States have no comparison whatever to the marked class difference which exists between the Liberal and Conservative ranks in English politics. The sympathies and interests of the Liberal party—embracing all outside of the aristocratic class, and those who gain a living by adherence to it—are closely, warmly interwoven with those of this country.

The occasionally diametrical opposition of the inclinations of this aristocratic minority to those of the bulk of the English people has been unpleasantly apparent before now. It was this titled sympathy with the South during the time of the war which gave rise to the Alabama claims, and has left a lingering feeling of soreness in the minds of many Americans. Whereas, the truth really was that the entire trading, manufacturing and agricultural classes—precisely the classes corresponding to those in line of battle on the northern side—were, throughout the whole struggle, in a prolonged condition of keen, anxious interest for the success of the Union.

Present indications all point to an approaching resumption of power by the Liberal party—the Grand Old Man again at the helm. Mr. Gladstone has lived long enough to outgrow a patriotism bounded by the confines of the British Isles. The Anglo-Saxon English speaking race is that with which he claims indissoluble kinship.

There is about as much likelihood that the English nation will permit this wordy warfare to develop into an actual conflict with the United States as there is of its sanctioning a declaration of war against all Europe at one time.

A SYNDICATE of a peculiar character was formed about a year ago, commencing its operations in Oregon. It secures low rates from railroad companies and then runs trainloads of people into the particular locality chosen. It buys and bonds real estate and divides the commission in various ways, furnishing to real-estate agents and others a list of names of persons whom it will bring, the commissions derived from the sale of lands to those persons—being divided between the syndicate and those making the sale. The syndicate also receives a percentage on the fares from the railroad company. In this manner it claims to have sold $71,000 worth of property in Helena, Mont., in four days. Representatives of the syndicate are now at Fresno, looking over the ground. This appears to be quite the latest systematization of the booming business.

AMONG THE POLITICIANS.

It is gratifying to know that our large and growing fruit industry is doing good to others besides the producers and shippers. In the great fruit-growing regions of Yolo and Solano counties white boys and girls are rapidly replacing the Chinamen. During the past few weeks as many as a thousand boys and girls have been employed in the orchards of those counties. The same is, to a great extent, true in this section, in our berry patches, canneries and orchards, although not to such an extent as might and should be. Our fruit harvest and the preserving of the crops will soon offer employment to all the surplus labor of the State all the year round, from the orange crop, ending in March, to the gathering of early berries in April. Moreover, it is a healthy employment, far preferable to the close labor in stifling eastern factories.

The result of the recent primaries in San Francisco, Santa Clara and elsewhere indicates that Col. Markham is in the lead, and he will probably be the Republican nominee for Governor. McKenna will undoubtedly be renominated for Congress.—(Oakland Enquirer.)

H. H. Markham's strength is increasing every day. He is now grasping the solid vote of Southern California in the Republican State Convention. His strength in San Francisco is developing rapidly, and it is thought at the present moment that he may obtain all the solid support of strong support. Chapman of Red Bluff and W. W. Morrow are also candidates. It is highly probable, however, that W. W. Morrow will withdraw from the race and become a candidate for United States Senator. He could not obtain all the solid support of Southern California.—(San Bernardino Times-Index.)

GRAND ARMY.

Col. Smedberg the West's Candidate for Alger's Place.

BOSTON, July 28.—Grand Army arrangements and Grand Army politics constitute the current talk about Boston. The political end of the grand encampment, of course, centers in the election. Alger, it is understood, will decline to stand again. The contest promises to come between the veterans of the East and those of the West, and while it will be altogether a friendly one, it will be none the less spirited. Col. Smedberg of California is the man who seems to have the call on the soldiers from the States beyond the Mississippi River, while Col. Wheelock of Vermont, the present Incumbent, is the eastern favorite. Hovey of Indiana and Weissert of Wisconsin are also named as possibilities. Among the reviewing party will be President and Mrs. Harrison, ex-President Hayes, Gen. Sherman, Maj.-Gen. Schofield, Mrs. Logan, Mrs. Hancock and Mrs. Farragut.

A Runaway Boy Killed.

SAN MATEO, July 27.—Hugh Killen, aged 13, one of a party of four boys who ran away from their homes at San Jose, fell from a brakebeam of the midnight train between Belmont and Redwood City last night. His left arm was cut off and his left leg and right arm were smashed to a jelly. He lay where he was injured from 1 a.m. to 5 a.m., when trainmen brought him to the home of his parents in San Jose and died ten minutes after arriving.

SANTA MONICA.

Thousands of People on the Beach.

THE BALLOON ASCENSION.

All of the Hotels Filled to Their Utmost Capacity—Some of the Prominent Visitors—Notes.

SANTA MONICA, July 27.—(Correspondence of THE TIMES.) Santa Monica has witnessed many large crowds, but never any that approached the vast concourse of people who came down today to witness the balloon ascension and parachute jump. They came down in every known vehicle of transportation, and the rails were kept hot with specials to accommodate the grand rush to the seashore, and long before the ascension there were fully fifteen thousand, who, in order to have a bath before the ascension in the afternoon, made a grand rush on the bathhouses for suits, and so anxious were they to be accommodated at once that they almost took possession of the various bathing establishments, in many cases insisting on going behind the counters to help themselves. That glory suit was used many times over, but finally expressed the scramble for suitable apparel to enjoy a plunge in the ocean, the surf being literally black with bathers.

Long before the hour appointed for the ascension the crowd began to congregate in the neighborhood of the spot selected, and by 2 p.m. every available spot was filled with anxious spectators. At 2:15 word was given to let the 20 by Prof. Baldwin, and the balloon gracefully ascended in an easterly direction until the Professor, who, having climbed the webbing, which was thirty-five feet long, and made a couple of turns on the trapeze, became a mere speck in the heavens. Just as the crowd began to get nervous the parachute left the balloon and shot down fairly 200 feet, and then opened. The umbrella-like parachute was gently descended, and the figure on the parachute seemed totally oblivious of danger.

Immediately after the jump the crowd went to the beach, and the onslaught on the bathhouses was greater than ever, and it seemed for an hour or two as if there was no limit to their importunate demands for suits. One man who could not get a suit of proper dimensions to fit his portly figure borrowed a duster and started for the surf, much to the delight of the small boys, who yelled after him, "Where did you get that duster?" but perfectly oblivious to all, he bathed in his duster and said he enjoyed the bath.

The hotels were uncomfortably full all day, and the restaurants were packed with the hungry throng. The resorts where King Gambirius reigns were also besieged with anxious mortals after German milk. The phonograph was liberally patronized by the numerous gathering.

The following were noticed on the beach: Col. E. E. Hewitt, M. C. Crayley, Henry Steer, C. Brackmann, A. H. Denker and family, Q. A. Campbell, Horace Bell, J. Lee Burton, Charles White, L. A. McConnell, J. M. McClure, W. B. Hunter, Theodore Sumner, Deputy Sheriff, W. J. Way, Brady, Chalk Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. McGregor, M. P. Biscalluz, R. B. Lovell, E. W. Hopp, B. F. Marsh, O. K. Cushing, R. J. Adcock, J. C. Murry, A. Stewart, W. J. White, H. Schmidt, H. A. Powers, M. H. Ryan, M. J. J. W. Harris and M. J. Jacob, Cohn, T. Hammel, and Jacob Gottlieb, Maj. Horace Bell and wife, F. L. Reynolds, W. E. Bloss, Frank Bernier, W. H. Davenport, W. H. Coulter, H. G. Calvin, Jesse Hardesty, A. M. Ryan, Ed Zobelein, A. N. Kelsey, H. P. Lewis.

On the beach today we notice many Los Angeles people: Mmes. Lawyer J. Frank Gist, M. S. Tyler, Prof. and Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Col. Baker, her sister and Miss Baker, Edward Bowring and wife, Mrs. E. G. Muchmore, Master F. H. Muchmore, Abbot Kinney, the "Tomale Club," Sig. Modini-Wood, Capt. Bolton.

At a table under an umbrella was an alcohol stove burning, and over it a coffee pot steaming.

The band gave a concert in the afternoon, and a crowd from the Arcadia met at Mrs. ex-Postmaster Preuss's cottage and proceeded to the polo grounds to see the night. The refreshments were served by the English ladies, and many were present.

Mrs. Francis Edgerton of San Francisco, a noted educationist, has gone to Redondo for a few days as the guest of Mrs. Plater at the hotel.

BASE-BALL.

The Sacramento Club Whitewashed by the San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The home team was whitewashed today by San Francisco, the score being 6 to 0. Lookabaugh pitched a great game, and allowed but five hits to be made.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Oakland won from Stockton today by good batting by a score of 11 to 3. Batteries: Carsey and Lohman, Perrot and Duane.

GAMES IN THE EAST.

BROOKLYN, July 27.—Brooklyn, 13; Columbus, 8.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Toledo, 5; Athletic, 4.

ROCHESTER, July 27.—The Louisville game was not played today, and there will be no more Sunday games in this city.

Some World's Fair Plums.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—It is reported that the Commissioners of the World's Fair, during their recent visit to this city, tendered to Robert P. Porter, Superintendent of Census, the position of chief of the bureau of awards, and to Prof. G. Brown Goode, now assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, in charge of the national museum, the position of chief of the bureau of classification and catalogue for the forthcoming exposition. Next to the director-generalship of the fair, these are the most important positions connected with the exposition. It is not known yet if the gentlemen have accepted.

Steamer Arrivals.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Arrived: Umbria from Liverpool, La Bourgogne from Havre, Chicago from London.

A Third Soorcher.

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—The mercury reached 107 today, making the third successive soorcher.

DAMRON AND LOCKWOOD.

Both of Them to Appear in Court Today.

There has been no falling off of interest in the Damron-Lockwood-Chadwick forgery scandal, and much speculation was indulged in yesterday as to the outcome of the proceedings today.

Damron will probably be taken before Justice Austin, when he will be formally delivered up by his bondsmen, who will ask for an order vacating the forfeiture. It is a question whether Damron will attempt to give bail at this time, but if the Court should be asked to fix the amount, Deputy District Attorney Hardesty will insist on it being made large enough to insure his attendance when wanted, probably $10,000 in each case. It is also probable that another complaint will be filed against Damron in the next day or two, in the matter of the note containing the forged signature of John W. Lindley.

The examination of Justice Lockwood, on the charge of harboring a fugitive from justice, also comes up before Justice Savage this afternoon at 2 o'clock, and promises to be decidedly interesting, as a strong effort will be made to have Lockwood discharged.

The sentiment that Justice Lockwood, in view of recent developments, should at once tender his resignation, is increasing every day, and it has been suggested that as there is no legal way by which he can be removed, until he has been convicted of some crime, the City Council, Board of Supervisors and other public officials should unite in a request or demand that he resign, on the ground that even should he escape by some legal technicality, his usefulness is destroyed for the position he occupies. Several well-known attorneys and other prominent citizens favor this action, but whether it will take any organized shape could not be ascertained last evening.

It was reported last night that Justice Lockwood had skipped on the 10:40 train for San Francisco, but on investigation it was learned that Lockwood and several friends were at the San Fernando depot about ten minutes before the train pulled out and that Lockwood purchased a ticket, but it was not for himself, for a few minutes before the train pulled out he passed the ticket to Mrs. Foster, who has been occupying rooms in the Redick block, only a few doors from the room occupied by Damron. Lockwood is a particular friend of the woman, and it is supposed that she is being sent away to keep from testifying in the case against him before Justice Savage today.

THE UNTRIFIED.

The Row Between the Party and the "Origin" Not Settled.

The "untrified" mainly devoted their time yesterday to discussing the result of the meeting of the San José delegates, Saturday night, a full report of which was published in THE TIMES yesterday, and it was generally agreed that nothing further could be done until after the meeting Wednesday to receive Mr. Lynch's final answer. That the row is still far from being settled will be seen from the following editorial paragraph published in the Herald yesterday:

The Herald intends to make the stealing of Democratic primaries in this city so odious and profane that the Gaffneys and their Republican aids will be glad to quit the business. It is a question in our mind whether the decency of our party should not at once resent the late outrage by calling for a public expression and sending a delegation to go to San José and present the facts to the convention. It is possible that they might not be seated, but their case would attract such attention as to secure from all right-thinking men an expression of opinion that would go far to place a public taboo upon this kind of business. The sack may be powerful enough to carry primaries, but it will never elect a Governor of this State. When it comes to an election by the people the sack will prove a failure.

A writing the above there appears to have been a softening of the editorial heart, and the following was accordingly penned to take off the razor edge:

An attempt has been made to construe an article which appeared in the Herald yesterday as disrespectful to our delegates to the Democratic State Convention. Some persons who do not read intently have supposed that, in our energetic reprobation of parties dealing with pimps and parasites in a Democratic State Convention, we intended a slur on the delegation which goes to San José. A careful reading of the paragraph referred to will show that we recognized the high honor of that body—in its personnel, as we said the other day—remarkably representative of the worth and intelligence of this section, and that we did not desire to have it compromised. The Herald takes back nothing and qualifies nothing. It only removes a misconception laboriously contrived by its enemies. It has labored to protect the honor of an unusually able delegation from contamination. If it has been mistaken, after inquiries which it will institute, it will make the amplest and fairest reparation, on Thursday morning, to the gentleman who has been represented to it as an ex-convict, and who was selected as one of the delegates to the Democratic State Convention at San José.

BASE-BALL.

The Sacramento Club Whitewashed by the San Francisco.

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] The home team was whitewashed today by San Francisco, the score being 6 to 0. Lookabaugh pitched a great game, and allowed but five hits to be made.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Oakland won from Stockton today by good batting by a score of 11 to 3. Batteries: Carsey and Lohman, Perrot and Duane.

GAMES IN THE EAST.

BROOKLYN, July 27.—Brooklyn, 13; Columbus, 8.

PHILADELPHIA, July 27.—Toledo, 5; Athletic, 4.

ROCHESTER, July 27.—The Louisville game was not played today, and there will be no more Sunday games in this city.

Some World's Fair Plums.

WASHINGTON, July 27.—It is reported that the Commissioners of the World's Fair, during their recent visit to this city, tendered to Robert P. Porter, Superintendent of Census, the position of chief of the bureau of awards, and to Prof. G. Brown Goode, now assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, in charge of the national museum, the position of chief of the bureau of classification and catalogue for the forthcoming exposition. Next to the director-generalship of the fair, these are the most important positions connected with the exposition. It is not known yet if the gentlemen have accepted.

Steamer Arrivals.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Arrived: Umbria from Liverpool, La Bourgogne from Havre, Chicago from London.

A Third Soorcher.

SACRAMENTO, July 27.—The mercury reached 107 today, making the third successive soorcher.

NOTED DIVINE DEAD.

Sudden Demise of Rev. Robert Laird Collier.

Gov. Ross of Texas on the Proposed Boycott Against the North.

He Denounces the Scheme as Wicked and Impracticable.

Shocking Accident—A Family of Five Persons Struck by a Train and Instantly Killed—Eastern Notes.

By Telegram to THE TIMES.

SALISBURY (Md.), July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] Rev. Robert Laird Collier, one of the most widely known Unitarian divines in the country, died this morning at his country home. He was stricken with paralysis on Friday night and never recovered consciousness.

THAT SOUTHERN BOYCOTT.

Gov. Ross of Texas Says It Would Be Folly.

ST. LOUIS, July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] Gov. Ross of Texas, in an interview yesterday, in reply to an inquiry as to his opinion of the proposed boycott of the North by the South, said: "I deem the proposed boycott utterly impracticable, and, if practicable, it would be unwise, because it would array the North and South against each other in permanent political, social and commercial hostility. It would withdraw millions of northern capital from the South, and destroy the credit of thousands of southern merchants. It would, in every southern community, create implacable enmities between those who wavered and those who refused to join in the boycott. A citizen's loyalty to his State and country would be tested by a false standard, while in the North every interest would be arrayed solidly against the South. If practicable, it would be a measure calculated to involve injury to friends and foes alike. It would be predicated upon the assumption that the force bill, once enacted into law, would be unreplicable; that the just sentiment of all sections could not be relied upon to relieve an oppressed region from a measure found to be tyrannical and dangerous to peace."

JOINED THE MAJORITY.

Death of a Noted Democratic Politician.

MCLEANSBORO (Ill.), July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] Judge S. S. Marshall died suddenly in this city yesterday, aged 69 years. Judge Marshall has been prominent in Democratic politics in this State since the forties, and was widely known in other States. He was elected to Congress from the Nineteenth District in 1854 and served fourteen years. He represented the Democratic party for the State at large in the Charleston convention and Baltimore convention, which nominated Lincoln for President. He was also a member of the Illinois delegation at the Cincinnati convention, which nominated Hancock. He was also a member of the consulting committee at Philadelphia, which had for its object the determination of the proper course of the Democracy regarding the difficulties existing between President Johnson and the Republican party.

STRUCK BY A TRAIN.

Five Members of a Family Instantly Killed.

GRAFTON (W. Va.), July 27.—[By the Associated Press.] A frightful railroad accident occurred here this morning, resulting in the death of five persons, members of one family. Just about the time the west-bound accommodation train was due William Golden, his wife and three children started to cross the Baltimore and Ohio tracks, but seeing a yard engine coming up they stopped to let it pass. While watching the engine a passenger train struck the family, instantly killing the husband, wife and three children. The noise of the yard engine prevented the approach of the train being heard.

Dr. Burtell Says Farewell.

NEW YORK, July 27.—Rev. Dr. Burtell, pastor of the Roman Catholic Church of the Epiphany, who has been removed by the College of Propaganda at Rome on account of his differences with Archbishop Corrigan, took farewell of his congregation at mass this morning. He said he never did ought which he knew to be wrong, and added: "No doubt I erred sometimes, but never knowingly. I will continue in the same path. I will try to do my duty as a priest and a Catholic, and trust you will pray for me."

Railroad Men in Council.

BOSTON, July 27.—Delegates from one hundred and five railroad centers of this country and Canada attended a meeting of the Grand Council of the Steam Railroad Men's Protective Union today. The necessity for automatic draw bar, guard rail and higher elevation bridges was forcibly presented by many delegates. The questions of reduced hours of labor for trainmen and switchmen and more wages were discussed, but nothing definite was done. The several standing committees and the general president were instructed to secure the enactment of legislative measures in the interest of railroad employees.

Result of an Attraction.

NEW ORLEANS, July 27.—At Milneburg, this evening, a row occurred between a number of men from this city, in which Jack Hayes, Tom Larnegan and John Larnegan were mortally wounded. The cause of the trouble is not known.

Eye, Ear, Throat and Nose.—Dr. Bloom (of Pittsburgh), No. 529 Broadway. Operations skillfully performed.

Grand Opening of Chautauqua Assembly and magnificent display of fireworks at Redondo Beach. Special excursion train will be run by Southern California Railway Co. leaving Los Angeles Tuesday, July 29th, at STAGE TONES.

Coming Attractions at the Opera-house.

"THE SHATCHEN" TOMORROW.
The Palmer Company Booked—Mary Anderson and the Newspaper Men—Marcus Mayer and His Bet.

Tomorrow night at the Grand Opera-house the first performance in Los Angeles will be given of the new Jewish play, The Shatchen, otherwise The Marriage-Broker, that being the translation of the Hebrew word forming the title of the piece. It is announced as an original comedy by Henry Doblin and Charles Dickson—otherwise the brothers Doblin; Charles having taken the name of Dickson for stage purposes. He is an actor in this company and has also achieved considerable success in other combinations. He will be chiefly remembered here as the juvenile lover in The Wife, and also as taking an excellent part of somewhat similar kind in A Possible Case.

The Argonaut tells a story of his first appearance some years ago at Niblo's, when he was supernumerary in a war drama. His father, a Jewish merchant, brought a crowd of friends to the opening performance, prepared to see a youthful prodigy in his son. But a large part of the play passed. The son rarely appeared on the stage, and did nothing even to save to hold a musket wrong side foremost. At last, toward the end of the third act, goaded by the taunts of his friends, the old gentleman rose in his seat and shouted at the top of his voice: "Sharchie, my boy, for God's sake do something. Shook de gun off."

"Sharchie" has made rapid strides in his profession since then, and has established a reputation as a talented representative of juvenile parts. In addition to this he is trying to make a name as an author, though exactly how far he has gone in this direction is not known. He is credited to credit for originality in the plot of The Shatchen may be open to question. It is quite possible that a play which was performed some five years ago at the Hebrew Theater in New York city, and which had for its principal character the very marriage broker now put forward as the "Shatchen," may have furnished the idea and the plot. The Hebrew piece was very successful, and it seems strange that its connection with the present play should have been overlooked by the New York critics.

M. B. Curtis has taken the title role in The Shatchen is well-known here for his laughable personation of Jewish characters of the eccentric type, and has often afforded amusement enough in himself for a whole evening. The cast is also greatly strengthened by the addition of Frank Mordant, concerning whom Music and Drama expresses surprise that he does not enter the field of stellar attractions. The compliment to Mr. Mordant is well deserved, but it is presumed that he appreciates the enjoyment of a regular and liberal stipend in preference to embarking in the sea of troubles incident to the career of a star. One of the chief hindrances to the keeping up of any good supporting company is, that just as soon as any member of it gets a certain amount of praise from the press he or she is thereby tempted to go alone and take the road as a star, provided the backer can be found. The mistake is usually discovered too late, when the money being all gone, the would-be star finds "how hard it is to climb the embattled steep where Fame's high temple shines afar."

The performance of The Shatchen tomorrow night will no doubt be well worth seeing.

The San Francisco papers have little but praise for the performances of the A. M. Palmer Company now being given in that city, and the public expectation here is being worked up in anticipation of the pleasure of witnessing the refined and finished presentations of the plays in their popular repertory. The opening takes place August 11th, at the Grand Opera-house, and arrangements are being perfected by the advance agent, Mr. Morrissey, for the running of the trains to the seaside and all outside places where sufficient subscribers can be procured.

Soubrettes seem to be more plentiful this year than they have ever been before, and not a few of them are in sore distress because a certain feminine theatrical agent will employ none of them except if they are accompanied by "flip-flop" or, in other words, able to turn a "cart-wheel." This seems to be the latest requirement for farce-comedy work, and the soubrette that cannot flip-flop is consequently in the conundrum.

The paragrapher finds it hard to let go of Mary Anderson and her belongings. It has been broadly intimated that she was driven off the stage on account of the mental worry brought on by the persistent interviewer and the unvarnished itemizer. Her attempt at privacy in the celebration of her marriage was nearly frustrated, and now the complexion and other attributes of her husband are being widely discussed, and guesses are made as to how many months it will be before "Our Mary" is again on the stage. The latest atrocity is of the pictorial kind, evidently imaginary, and purporting to represent the wedding party leaving the church. The salient points of the picture are that it shows Mr. Navarro so far out of the fashion as to wear creases down the front of his trousers, and that his bride holds him apparently at arm's length, as if she were mentally saying, "To this complexion have I come at last."

Marcus Mayer has left Henry Abbey and is going into management on his own account. Marcus, by way of advertising himself, got up a bet with J. C. Williamson, the Australian manager, that he would be in Paris, at a certain café, on the 24th inst., at an hour agreed upon. The particulars of the bet were published at great length in the San Francisco and other papers. The eating of twenty-four dinners on twenty-four consecutive days, at the rate of $750 per diem, appears to have been the chief penalty. The Parisian café was to be cleaned out, as it were, and the patrons of a lively kind were indulged in by the scribe of the San Francisco Call who figured everything down to a fine point, and summed up the net cost of the bet at $17,280.

Music and Drama now states on the authority of a cablegram that Marcus reached London at noon on the day it was, according to the other papers, stipulated he should reach Paris; but

Music and Drama claims that the bet of "$10,000" has been thereby won. It has been a very cheap advertisement for the astute Hebrew manager, and if he has lost his bet it will not likely cost him more than a case of wine, at the outside.

Miss Mamie Short, the elocutionist, so well and favorably known in Los Angeles, and who went East about a year ago, has now concluded to go upon the stage, for which it appears she always had a strong predilection. After a special course of study in New York, where she was given exceptional advantages on account of her evident talent, she has obtained an engagement as leading support. Marie Hubert Frohman and will appear with her in a repertory, the chief piece being the new play, entitled The Witch. It is stated that Manager Frohman has invested a large amount in the scenery and costumes for The Witch, and it is expected to prove a great attraction. Miss Short has been rebaptized for her theatrical career, and will henceforth be known as "Marion" instead of "Mamie," in deference to the esthetic prejudices of her new manager.

During the time the majority of our well-known actresses are playing tag with their lives in banting, a number of our leading young men are moving heaven and earth to acquire a few pounds of additional flesh. John T. Sullivan attempts it by eating a pot of Boston baked beans at every meal, Roland Reed is trying a mush and milk diet, Edwin Adams believes in milk with a dash of Jamaica rum, Tom Murphy in the rum without the milk, Nat Goodwin in lots of ale, Steele Mackaye in elaborate dinners, and Scanlon in lots of Irish potatoes. Sol Smith Russell has tried everything on earth, but grows thinner as he gets richer.—[Dramatic Mirror.]

While we have in America real burglars, real prize-fighters and a couple of real thieves on the stage, a Berlin manager has gone one better by producing a melodrama called The Executioner of Berlin, for the title role of which he engaged the real government executioner. Emperor William, however, nipped the enterprise in the bud by forbidding the cheerful official from turning into a real actor.

Kate Castleton has a new play for next season by Mrs. C. A. Doremus. She will open with it at Racine, Wis., September 1st.

John T. Sullivan is sick, and has gone home to Detroit.

When Fay Templeton attempts to appear before the public in this country, as she threatens to do, it appears likely that she may encounter some legal difficulties on account of an unfulfilled and unexpired contract with E. E. Rice, which she threw up without any notice when she skipped off with Howell Osborne. It seems that Rice wants $5000 to soothe his wounded feelings, and to pay for the loss caused by the fair Fay's abrupt desertion.

Nat Goodwin's recent production of A Gold Mine at the Gaiety Theater, London, appears to have been successful.

Dorothy Rosemore was to make her appearance at a benefit performance last night in San Francisco, where she was to enact "Romeo" to the "Juliet" of Lillian Lamson, a California debutante, who is going to England to complete her studies.

Archie Gordon has sold to Stuart Robson a new comedy, called A Natural, which will be produced next season.

Bob Hilliard threatens to bring a libel suit against the Sun, but will probably think better of it.

McKee Rankin will play the part of a French Canadian in the new piece entitled The Canuck, which is to be brought out next season. He wants it understood that he has made the character a life-long study, and that the dialect he uses is not broken French, but French-Canadian. A critic asks that he supplement this information by letting the public know what dialect he used when he played "Macbeth."

Jennie Metzler has been engaged for the season by the Tivoli management in San Francisco, and will make her first appearance in that house as "Seraphina" in The Vice-Admiral to-night.

The readers of the New York Saturday Review have no doubt been informed that Miss Elita Proctor Otis is now in London, accompanied by her amiable and popular mother. The ladies are stopping at the Savoy. O'Jury Carter's grand new hotel on Victoria embankment. Miss Otis remains abroad until October, and expects by that time to have seen the London season flourish, fade and fall, and to have obtained a glimpse of the continent as well. Her reputation as an amateur actress has preceded her, and London artistic circles will be disappointed if they do not see Miss Otis in some of her charming impersonations.—(Olive Logan, London letter, July 27th.)

"CASSIS." The Cause of a Spring-street Druggist's Prosperity.

A young Spring-street druggist was last week agreeably surprised at the sudden increase in his soda-water business, and as most of his new customers were ladies it was several days before he discovered the cause. It appears that when he opened his fountain he labeled one of the syrup receptacles "cassis," and to attract customers he told a number of his intimate friends of the male persuasion that the Latin name was spiritus frumenti, and to govern themselves accordingly. The boys "caught on" amazingly, and as the young druggist is himself a good judge of whisky and kept a first-class article, the fountain soon became amazingly popular. Early last week a new boy was engaged to manipulate the "fizz," who had not been initiated into the mystery of "cassis." In the course of an hour or two a couple of ladies came in, and accidentally noticing the new syrup, concluded to forego vanilla and cream for once, and squander 10 cents to gratify their curiosity. The result was surprising. After a few sips the glasses were emptied, and the ladies left the store. That evening they returned, and promptly called for "cassis." The next day the ladies returned, accompanied by one or two others, and by a singular coincidence all 10 cents was gratifying. From that time up to the present there has been a constant and steady increase in patronage, and the young druggist bids fair to become a wealthy man before the heated term is over, unless the ladies find out that it is plain whisky, or the revenue officials interfere.

THE RAILROADS.

Biggest Sunday Business on Record.

THE RUSH TO THE SEASHORE.
Latest Points in Regard to the Santa Fe's Northern Extension—At Work in the Tejon Pass.

Yesterday was a big day in railroad circles in both passenger and freight traffic. All of the local lines to the seacoast were kept busy from 8 a.m. until night. Trains were made up at the Wolfkill depot to accommodate the immense crowds who hurried from all parts of the city in street cars and carriages to the depot, regardless of time-tables, and seemed to think the railroad people would be ready for them. Cars and coaches of all kinds were pressed into service, and several of the special trains that pulled out presented a singular appearance, as the people had to go, and the railroads did the best they could for them. Several old Central Pacific cars that have not been in use for years were carted out, dusted up and filled to overflowing with men, women and children anxious to get out of the heated city for a few hours. All classes of people boarded the trains, and, strange to say, the excursionists behaved themselves in a manner that would put almost any Sunday picnic crowd in the world to shame. Drunken men were so scarce that it was almost impossible to find a single one, and according to statements made by special officers who go out with each special train, there was not a single case of disturbance of any kind.

It was impossible last night to tell how many people left the city for pleasure resorts, as the ticket sellers have not yet made their returns; but it is estimated by passenger men that between fifteen and twenty thousand people purchased tickets yesterday, and almost all of them were return trips. One of the oldest passenger men on the Southern Pacific stated to a Times reporter last night that yesterday was by far the biggest day of the season.

"I never saw anything like it since I came down here, and I am convinced that the way people turned out yesterday that Los Angeles is not a busted community, as many people would have us believe. When almost half the population of a city can turn out, and spend from two dollars to ten dollars a head for Sunday pleasure, business is good. This is proof positive that Los Angeles is a prosperous city, and the next time I hear any one talking about the bottom having dropped out, or words to that effect, I shall strike him, if he is not too big."

FREIGHT BUSINESS.
Freight business was better yesterday than it has been for a long time past. The Southern Pacific sent out three big sunset specials for the East loaded down with Southern California products, and the Santa Fe started four to Chicago. This is by far the biggest east-bound business that has been done in one day for a long time past. The west-bound business yesterday was good also, and the freight men are feeling better than they have felt for a couple of months past.

NOTES.
The local trains to San Juan were crowded with Union League men and politicians yesterday. All of the overland trains were on time yesterday, notwithstanding the heavy rains in Arizona and New Mexico.

SANTA FE GOING NORTH.

Saturday's Examiner says: Several reconnoitering parties of surveyors are still actively at work in the Tejon Pass. It is believed that they are working in the interest of the Atchison, doing preliminary work for its much-talked-of San Francisco extension. Some weeks ago a survey was run from Rogers, a station on the Atlantic and Pacific, to the southern entrance of the pass, and one from Mojave to the same point. The surveyors now in the pass are continuing the work by running a preliminary line from the junction of the two surveys at the southern entrance clear through the pass into the San Joaquin Valley. It is said that this job will take almost six months in completion, and that after it is accomplished it will require a vast amount of time to make final surveys so as to get proper grades and an estimate of cost for a road through the pass. People conversant with the topography of that portion of the State say that there are only two easy and comparatively cheap ways of building a railroad into the San Joaquin Valley from the south. One of the two is the Tejon Pass. The other is the Tejon Pass. It is considered a debatable question as to which is the best of the two, except that the northern route of Tejon Pass is very steep and abrupt. The elevation of the two passes is the same, about four thousand and twenty-five feet.

The Southern Pacific selected Tehachapi Pass, partly because it was thought to be the best and partly because it was within the limits of the land grant, and because a road through it was in line that was the best means of forming a junction at Mojave with the Atlantic and Pacific. The grade through Tehachapi is 116 feet to the mile, which is considered feasible in 11.9 miles. As a matter of fact a grade of sixty-eight feet to the mile is considered feasible in both passes. The Southern Pacific had an idea of establishing a line of 11.9 miles, and a 65-foot grade over a 116-foot grade did not in any sense justify the excessive outlay of the former as compared with a road of 116 feet to the mile.

An entrance into the San Joaquin Valley from the east, or east of Fresno or Visalia, is pronounced impracticable for the reason that the valley is a dead end, and is within a distance of thirty-five miles from the foot of the Sierra Nevada Mountains, and any story to the effect that the Union Pacific will seek to enter into California in that way for its Pacific extension is considered sheer nonsense.

STICKS TO SNOW SLED.
The Southern Pacific Company is not going to part company with its snow sheds in

FREE EXHIBITION

FINE PICTURES!

Sanborn, Vail & Co.

The largest and best collection of pictures ever shown on the Pacific Coast. Don't fail to see them.

Sanborn, Vail & Co.,

133 South Spring Street, LOS ANGELES.

the Sierra Nevada Mountains, notwithstanding all the talk of last winter about the efficacy of cyclone and rotary plows to keep the mountain tracks freed of snow. The company has today 500 men at work in the mountains, putting up about five miles of sheds, part of which includes the rebuilding of the sheds at the Cascade that were burnt down last summer, and where was located one of the great spots of last winter's blockade. The cost of the work will be about three hundred thousand dollars. One of the company's officers, in speaking about the snow sheds yesterday, said: "They represent today 300,000,000 feet of lumber and an expense of fully $5,000,000. It cost about $2,000,000 to build them in the first place and some $1,000,000 to keep them in repair during the past twenty years. The money they have cost would build houses for a town of 6000 people, each house costing $3000 and six people to a house. The Canadian Pacific has about seven miles of snow sheds, and in the five or six years it has been a through line it puts its expenses for fighting snow at $3,000,000. It figures in this expense, however, the cost of a road outside its snow sheds that is used for summer travel."

Excursion to Boston and Return—$110 for the Round Trip.
A special first-class excursion to Boston and return under the auspices of the G. A. R. leaves Los Angeles July 31st, via Sacramento and Portland. Tickets good 61 days. The Southern Pacific R. R. has been selected by the Department Commander as the official route. These rates are open to the public. Stops will be made at Portland, Tacoma, Spokane Falls, Helena, St. Paul, Chicago and Niagara Falls. Pullman palace and Pullman tourist cars run through to Boston without change. Address S. P. ticket agents or T. K. Stetler, Passenger Agent N. P. R. R., 628 Market street, S. F.

Rhodes & Keese, Electric and Supply Company.
Electric Bells, Hotel Annunciators, Burglar Alarms, electric gas lighting, builders' hardware, coils, etc. Electric Lighting. Telephone 410, 126 South Main street, Los Angeles.

Removal and Change of Hands of the Los Angeles Fisherman's Market. One of the finest managers. Location, SOUTH MAIN STREET. Telephone 572. Fresh fish and low prices.

Electrical Supply Company.
Electric Bells, Burglar Alarms, Annunciators, Gas Lighting and Electric Lighting. Room on BUDICK BLDG. Second and Spring streets.

EVERY LOYAL CALIFORNIAN ought to have the "Famous" Condensed Milk. Its purity is guaranteed.

DR. ELIZA M. MILLER has removed her office and residence to 1012 Temple street at Broadway.

HOTEL DEL CORONADO

Coronado, San Diego County.

With its magnificent appointments and genial atmosphere, is without exception the most delightful and enjoyable place for health, recreation, family resort or, if needed, perfect rest, to be found either on

THIS CONTINENT OR IN EUROPE.

Every breeze is laden with health and vigor. The sea now discharging at San Pedro 300 tons of coal in great variety for both ladies and gentlemen; also ample playgrounds for the children.

SATURDAY'S EXCURSIONS to Coronado leave Los Angeles at 8:15 a.m., returning at 4 p.m. Monday. Tickets, including 21 days board and room at the hotel, $11, for sale at Santa Fe office, 126 North Main street, at First street depot and other depots as heretofore.

The Coronado Natural Mineral Water. Used as a beverage at the hotel, is a delightful drink, pure, cold and sparkling, and possesses decided virtues in alleviating kidney troubles, rheumatism, in many cases making perfect cures.

Los Angeles Agency and Bureau of Information, 128 North Spring St., corner Franklin, LOS ANGELES.

Unclassified.

SMOKE

The Celebrated

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

ESTRELLA

The Coulter Dry Goods House.

30c	Children's White Dresses, trimmed with embroidery, worth 75 and 85 cents.	30c	Children's White Dresses, trimmed with embroidery, worth 75 and 85 cents.
75c	Children's White Dresses, extra fine quality, worth $1.00.	75c	Children's White Dresses, extra fine quality, worth $1.00.
65c	Children's White Aprons, fine check Swiss, embroidery trimmed, worth 85c.	65c	Children's White Aprons, fine check Swiss, embroidery trimmed, worth 85c.
75c	Children's White Aprons, fine Swiss, embroidery trimmed, worth $1.	75c	Children's White Aprons, fine Swiss, embroidery trimmed, worth $1.
25c	LADIES' MUSLIN DRAWERS, Trimmed with fine tucks.	25c	LADIES' MUSLIN DRAWERS, Trimmed with fine tucks.
30c	Ladies' Fine Muslin Drawers, embroidery trimmed, worth 75 cents a pair.	30c	Ladies' Fine Muslin Drawers, embroidery trimmed, worth 75 cents a pair.
35c	Ladies' Chemise, good muslin trimmed with lace and embroidery, worth 60c.	35c	Ladies' Chemise, good muslin, trimmed with lace and embroidery, worth 60c.
50c	Ladies' chemise, extra fine muslin, embroidery trimmed, worth 75 cents.	50c	Ladies' chemise, extra fine muslin, embroidery trimmed, worth 75 cents.
50c	Ladies' Nightgowns, good muslin, trimmed in torchon lace, worth 75 cents.	50c	Ladies' Nightgowns, good muslin, trimmed in torchon lace, worth 75 cents.
75c	Ladies' Nightgowns, fine muslin, trimmed with embroidery, worth $1.	75c	Ladies' Nightgowns, fine muslin, trimmed with embroidery, worth $1.
25 Per Cent.	DISCOUNT. Ladies' Fancy Parasols, to close stock, 1/4 off regular prices. Now 1/4 off your time. Just a few left.	25 Per Cent.	DISCOUNT. Ladies' fancy Parasols, to close stock, 1/4 off regular prices. Now 1/4 off your time. Just a few left.

Spring Street, Corner of Second.

Groceries.

"HELLO!"

HALL & PACKARD.

"HELLO!"

"How many pounds of sugar do you give for $1?" "Oh, let up on the sugar racket. You know we give as many pounds as our competitors, without asking. Sugar alone is not what you want cheap. You want everything in the grocery line, from a bar of soap to a barrel of flour, and you want

Fresh Goods and Best Quality.

Our stock is complete. We are loaded down with

FANCY GROCERIES, TABLE DELICACIES,

Tourist and Lanch Goods,

As well as staples. Send us your order and see how we serve you." Remember,

HALL & PACKARD, 441 SOUTH SPRING ST.

SOUTH FIELD WELLINGTON

Selected Lump Coal,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

The most economical and the best for domestic and steam purposes. Ship Glory of the sea now discharging at San Pedro 300 tons of this celebrated coal. Coal direct from the mine and am prepared to supply customers at lowest market price.

HANCOCK BANNING,

Importer of South Field Wellington and Foreign Steam Coal.

Yard, 338 North Main St. Office, 130 W. Second St.

TELEPHONE 1047. TELEPHONE 22.

THIS IS NOT OUR WAY.

COLUMBIA

BICYCLES

are the Best.

COLUMBIA

BICYCLES

are the Best.

AMERICAN RAMBLERS

are Popular.

AMERICAN RAMBLERS

are Popular.

Osborn & Alexander,

Market and Fremont streets.

F. E. OLDS, Los Angeles Agt,

West Fifth Street.

TO THE PUBLIC.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE UNDERSIGNED, JOHN D. HOOKER, ON APRIL 15, 1890, PROCURED FROM THE UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT A PATENT BEING NUMBERED 45,575, FOR AN IMPROVEMENT IN THE MEANS FOR COATING METAL PIPE FOR USE IN CONDUCTING WATER FOR MINING, MANUFACTURING IRRIGATION OR OTHER PURPOSES.

SAID PATENTED INVENTION CONSISTS IN THE APPLICATION IN A HEATED BATH TO THE METAL PIPE OF THE SUBSTANCE KNOWN IN THE ARTS AS MALTHA AND BEING PRODUCED BY A PROCESS OF DISTILLATION OF CRUDE PETROLEUM; AND THAT THE UNDERSIGNED J. D. HOOKER HAS NOW THE EXCLUSIVE RIGHT TO MANUFACTURE, VEND AND USE SAID INVENTION; AND THAT ANY AND ALL PERSONS WHO SHALL HEREAFTER MAKE, USE OR VEND THE SAID INVENTION, OR IN ANY WAY INFRINGE THEREON, WITHOUT THE PERMISSION OR LICENSE OF THE UNDERSIGNED, WILL BE PROSECUTED TO THE FULLEST EXTENT OF THE LAW.

J. D. HOOKER.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Worry, Wexation and Wattle.
LOS ANGELES, July 22.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] I have reason to believe that a very large proportion of our people are to a greater or smaller degree interested in every thing pertaining to tree growing.

The number of our beautiful city homes and country seats give evidence of this more conclusively than any amount of affirmation or argument upon this point could demonstrate; and I was therefore impressed with the idea that my recent notes upon wattle and tan bark trees would excite enough interest among tree-planters and tree-lovers to stimulate a general move in this direction. In selecting THE TIMES as the vehicle for the communication of information which I desired should have much publicity, I was influenced by an incident that occurred some months ago, which gave me an unpleasant (?) realization of its circulation.

A four-line notice appeared in what would be called an inconspicuous place of your two papers (THE TIMES and the WEEKLY MIRROR), containing what happened to be (through no fault of THE TIMES) a misrepresentation of fact.

Inquiries began to pour in upon me in reference to this article, and I was reached, I mean time firing out corrections to all the newspapers in the State. All in vain, the odious little clipping kept dropping in from Kneeland, Lower California, Wisner, Neb.; Oakbrook, Wis., and from places not down on the maps, nor in the post-office directory. I repaired to the TIMES office, demanding instant redress, but instead of comfort was coldly confronted with the advertising rates. I knew of no other way "to even up" for the insult and the outlay in postage, on that occasion, except by handing you in the item referred to that I would see in the hands of your readers Cloudsberg, Windville, Jagtown, Starshine and other enterprising centers. Truly yours, WILLIAM S. LYON.

Clean Streets in London.

LOS ANGELES, July 22.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] London is famous for her clean streets, and yet no city in the world is so crowded with horses. Eighteen thousand cab horses, two hundred omnibus lines, unrivaled private equipages and the enormous business traffic make her principal streets a spectacle never forgotten by the traveler, yet the asphalt pavement is as clean as a roller-coasting floor. This is mainly accomplished by the simple means of a dust-pan and brush. The sharp-eyed boys employed dodge about and swiftly gather up the filth on sight and run with it to the tall boxes about four feet high by eighteen inches square, with a lid at the top and a door at the bottom, which are placed at convenient distances along the curb. At night the boxes are emptied, the streets are washed and swept, and the next day the great procession moves on, always at a smart trot, except when brought to a dead stop by the upraised hand of the Queen's Own—no dust or nuisance of any kind underfoot.

Los Angeles should be a model American city in cleanliness and good lines. She cannot afford to be otherwise, for she is a resort for health-seekers, as well as people of wealth and refinement, who would enjoy her unrivaled climate, but who will not endure unnecessary evils. Her great opportunities should not be marred by the impressions which are continually spreading her reputation abroad, and which nothing can control save an active, thoughtful attention to the peculiarities of her needs and situation. The needs to become famous. She can be so, and let it be a fame which will retain all we have, and draw hither friends and home-seekers from all the world.

Mr. Kearney and the Red Rag.
LOS ANGELES, July 22, 1890.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] A few days ago the Courier of San Bernardino came out with a tirade against the English company at the tin mines of Temescal for having hoisted the British flag over their works, unaccompanied by Uncle Sam's so-called emblem of freedom.

We sympathize with the editor of that paper, and know that he has no time to look up all the affairs of like nature that are going wrong and suggest that he would favor us with a few statistics in regard to the mineral output of his county, who the owners of the principal mines are, what the profits are, where the products go, and how much of it stops in San Bernardino county. Also, if the present Governor of the State did not employ unnaturalized foreigners to the exclusion of native born miners to work a mine previous to his election as Lieutenant Governor. Also, if he did not at that time throw the responsibility upon his partner, Mr. Porter. Also, if more than nine-tenths of the men at present employed by the Governor at his mines near Joplin are not unnaturalized foreigners. Perhaps it would be well also for him to copy some of the Mexican mining laws, that compel mine owners to employ an equal number of native miners, or relinquish the possession of their mines, and get them inserted in our laws.

MINE.

"The Hand That Rocks the Cradle."
RAMONA, July 25.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] Passing through the San Gabriel Valley, I saw, looming in the distance, a structure of no ordinary dimensions. Wishing to take cognizance of every interesting feature of this privileged spot of both Nature and art, as I passed by the newly laid out grounds of the institution, I went to solicit admission. The courteous, kindly reception tendered me made me free to inquire into the aim of the institution, its methods of teaching, curriculum of study, etc., and the result of these inquiries was convincing. Here, be thought me, is the proper place for the child to be trained in the cultured, cultured young lady, and as a natural consequence, to see her develop later into the noble and cultured woman. Away from the turmoil of the city, which is such a favorable condition for study, and breathing in the pure air of the country—a rare physical boon—the mind is naturally charmed by Nature's lovely surroundings, taste is unconsciously developed, while the soul is elevated by refined and chastened influences. What more could we desire for our daughters, whose great mission is to raise the moral structure of society? for, says a well-known writer, "the hand that rocks the cradle governs the world."

OSBURN.

Is it a Job?
LOS ANGELES, July 24.—[To the Editor of THE TIMES.] I am one of a number of people who live on Hope street, north of Sixth, and we all have come to the conclusion to be heard through your valuable paper, that is if SECOND-STREET CABLE.

Another Meeting of the Crown Hill Citizens.
A meeting of the citizens and members of the Crown Hill Improvement Association was held at the Ellis College building Saturday evening, to hear reports upon progress made in securing subscriptions for the Second-street cable road. The result showed that so far about nine-tenths of the subscriptions have been made by residents west of Pearl street, and that they were largely made up of small amounts from poor people, many of them for $10 and upward; by persons who could ill afford to give anything. On the other hand, the subscriptions from persons of wealth were few, many rich men, whose property would be greatly advanced in value by the construction of the road, refusing to subscribe a dollar. At the same time there were some notable instances of public spirit and liberality mentioned at the meeting. H. J. Weller, who owns no property contiguous to the proposed road, had sent in a subscription of $50, and Dr. H. E. Small, who does not own a foot of real estate in the city, had voluntarily subscribed $20.

After a full expression of opinion by those present the sentiment seemed to be in favor of holding Messrs. Weller's proposition open for two weeks longer, and if the amount asked was not raised by that time to abandon the project, at least so far as Second street is concerned, between Pearl and Fifth ways. Considerable feeling was shown, and it was said that if the wealthy property-holders behind Bunker Hill avenue and Spring street are flaunting themselves with the idea that the owners of small homes west of Pearl street are going to carry the whole load, this matter, they may find themselves badly mistaken when it is time to correct their error.

There is one thing very certain, it was said, and that is that these property-owners will have the satisfaction of climbing up, and down the hill a long time if Messrs. Weller do not build the road, while the Crown Hill people will have another outlet and "add other string to their bow."

FORFEITED BONDS.

Only Five in Department No. 1—The Names.

The matter of forfeited bonds is still a matter of considerable public interest, but so far it has been impossible to get anything like a correct statement. There are a few in the minor courts, but just whose they are cannot be ascertained without going over the entire record; there are also, perhaps, a few in the various departments of the Superior courts.

In Department No. 1, where most of the criminal business is done, there are, of course, the greatest number. The clerk of this department has furnished the following list of forfeited bonds since January 1, 1889, as follows:

1889.
January 22d, John McCoy, bail forfeited; January 23d, vacated.
February 4th, J. J. Ginnocchio and R. D. Manning, bench warrant, $1000.
February 19th, Franz Schneider, bail forfeited; April 3d, vacated.
February 25th, Fred S. Mink, bail forfeited; February 27th, vacated.
March 20th, George Young, bail forfeited; March 20th, vacated.
March 19th, Frank Heraldo, bail forfeited; March 21st, vacated.
March 21st, A. K. Morris, bail forfeited; June 3d, vacated.
April 3d, Albert Cohn, bail forfeited; April 4th, vacated.
April 10th, Ed Ming, bail forfeited; April 15th, vacated.
May 17th, D. M. Litta, bail forfeited; June 6th, vacated.
June 6th, James Hood, bail forfeited; June 10th, vacated.
September 16th, A. B. East, bail forfeited; July 23d, George Young, bail forfeited; July 24th, vacated.
September 16th, James Vilair, bail forfeited; September 17th, vacated.
November 4th, Charles O'Donnell, bail forfeited; November 7th, vacated.

1890.

March 4th, Toy Sing, bail forfeited; March 6th, vacated.
June 11th, J. F. Bodwell, bail forfeited; June 13th, vacated.

From the above it will be seen that all forfeitures have been paid, with the exception of Ginnocchio and Manning, D. M. Litta, James Hood, Frank Lauterio and A. B. East, and in the case of Lauterio it is claimed that there should have been an order vacating the forfeiture, but that, from some oversight it was not done.

SWIFT'S SPECIFIC.

A troublesome skin disease caused me to scratch my face for months, and has been cured by a few days use of S. S. S. M. H. WOLFE, Upper Marlboro, Md.

Dead Chinaman.
This morning between 2 and 3 o'clock Officer Dunn telephoned the police station that there was a dead Chinaman in the Chinese Hospital on Alameda street. The Chinaman was brought from San Bernardino yesterday in a wagon. He was in a dying condition when he got to the hospital, some time during the night. The coroner was notified and will hold an inquest today.

The Servant Girl in America.

The servant girl question still crops up in the newspapers. It is not to be wondered at that the question presents so many difficulties. In that class in America which boasts hereditary wealth the question is being settled on the lines followed in England—the establishment of a class of domestic and servant. This involves the formation of a ruling class and a serving class, the settlement of their respective rights and duties being a mere matter of detail presenting no serious difficulties. But the vast majority of the people of the American continent and this is especially true of the people of Canada—are included in the great middle class from which alone the main body of efficient servants must come. The difficulty of settling the relation between the employer and employee is thus doubly complicated, first by the natural unwillingness of the employed to accept the mark of inferiority, and second by the inability of the employer to provide such accommodation as is necessary in order to enable the employee to live a human life. In fact, we seek to establish here the feudal relation without the money to provide that absolutely necessary adjunct, the servants' hall. Where there is but one servant, and where the life of that servant when in her employer's house must be passed in the kitchen and attic bedroom, the servant must either transgress necessary rules or suppress the first element of human nature, which is the desire for human companionship. Not in training-schools for servants, not in better wages or kind treatment is the solution of the servant-girl problem to be found, but in the extension of those agencies which now lighten the housekeeper's labors—the gas stove, the public laundry, the central kitchen, and others which are rapidly making their usefulness felt.

QUEEN VICTORIA.

What She Drinks and Why the Court Physician Recommended It.

The London World has been making an investigation of what the Queen drinks, and has ascertained definitely that upon the advice of Sir William Jenner, the court physician, she takes for the purpose of retaining her vigor, rousing her strength and prolonging her life, the whiskey which she drinks is obtained from the distillery of Sir James Watson, of Glasgow, and is of perfectly pure. Thus the world affords a valuable suggestion in this fact. England's sovereign drinks whiskey under the recommendation of the court physician and on account of its medicinal properties, and the drinks it is absolutely pure, having a distillate upon her own estate. These facts prove two things: First, that all modern medical science demonstrates the superior value of whiskey for sustaining the health and prolonging the life of the aged; and second, that the leading American physicians and chemists have indicated that views constantly and emphasized the necessity of having whiskey that is absolutely pure. The best medical and chemical talent in America has shown conclusively that no whiskey known in the market is so pure as Duffy's Malt. It is free from fuel oil, from the so-called "cutting," and it is doing great things for the health of the community. So true is this that while many temperance societies pronounce whiskeys and liquors in general they acknowledge the superior merit of Duffy's Malt, and use it medicinally and continually. Great care should be exercised, however, to secure no other matter how good a dealer may seek to sell you something else.

LINE OF CITY BUSINESS.

Bakeries and Restaurants.
VINNIA BAKERY AND LUNCH, N. Spring, 30.
Books and Stationery.
L. A. RUSSELL & MEYER, wholesale and retail, 111 N. Spring st. Telephone 58.
Chicago Delicacy Store.
MRS. RUSSELL & DOWNEY, 338 S. Spring st. Fine delicacies and confectionery. A. J. Russell & Downey, 338 S. Spring st. Telephone 58.
Iron Works.
W. J. BROWN IRON WORKS, 445-454 Duena Vista.
Los Angeles Abstract Company.
J. H. WILSON, 11 Temple st. Safe deposit building.
Lumber.
W. J. BROWN IRON WORKS, 445-454 Duena Vista.
Wholesale and retail lumber dealers.
Office, corner Alameda and Macy sts.
Paper Warehouse.
GEO. W. COCHRAN & CO., wholesale paper warehouse, 209 N. Spring st. Telephone 300.
Real Estate.
W. J. BROWN IRON WORKS, 445-454 Duena Vista.
City and Town Supply Company.
W. J. BROWN IRON WORKS, 445-454 Duena Vista.

EDUCATIONAL.

PROF. RICHARD WALLER, Ph.D., A. graduate of the University of California, formerly teacher of modern languages in the University of California, and now in Germany and Italy, literature, art, history, etc., etc. English to foreigners. French to Americans. Preparation for the diplomatic service and for the study of French and German literature. References, 514 1/2 Temple st., near Pearl, Los Angeles, Cal.

SHORTHAND, TYPEWRITING, TEACHING, and BOOKKEEPING, 138 E. 1st st., the only school in the city in which these are taught by competent gentlemen, skilled in shorthand, penmanship, bookkeeping, and typewriting. Terms moderate. Catalogue on application. (30 years a reporter.) Principal.

KINDERGARTEN TRAINING.

School, Mrs. Mayhew will organize a class of children to study the system of education; the training will include songs and games, and the children will be of the age of 3 to 5 years. Address, 1928 BUNNELL AVE.

LOS ANGELES BUSINESS COLLEGE.

English and training school, 28, 40 and 42 N. Main st. (near corner 14th). Near 4th and 5th streets, complete course of study. E. H. BROWN, Proprietor. N. INSKEEP, P. W. KELLEY, Principals.

HERRARD'S NOTARY, TEACHER.

of German, 551 S. Spring st. P. O. Box 1888, near corner 14th and 15th streets, near 4th and 5th streets, complete course of study. E. H. BROWN, Proprietor. N. INSKEEP, P. W. KELLEY, Principals.

Attorneys.

SMITH, WINDEN & SMITH, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW, will practice in all the State and Federal courts. Offices, rooms 1, 2, 3 and 4, University Bank building, 17 N. W. HIGGS ST., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone No. 583.

PATENTS, CAVEATS AND TRADE-MARKS.

marks obtained in the United States and foreign countries. Invention of new machines, processes, etc.; terms moderate; advice free. H. M. FREDERICK STANFORD, WILL D. GOULD, GOULD & STANFORD, ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW, Los Angeles, Cal. Office: 83, 85 and 87 Temple block. Telephone 100.

ISIDORE B. DOCKWEILER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, will practice in all the State and Federal courts. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

L. H. WASHBURN, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW, will practice in all the State and Federal courts. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

DIVORCE LAW A SPECIALTY.

advices free. TAYLOR & KINLEY, Attorneys, 115 S. Spring st., city, rooms 1, 2, 3 and 4, University Bank building, 17 N. W. HIGGS ST., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

DIVORCE AND PROBATE LAW A SPECIALTY.

advices free. HOLCOMBE & GARDNER, attorneys, 126 W. First st.

HENRY E. CARTER, NOTARY PUBLIC, will practice in all the State and Federal courts. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

M. J. MURPHY, ATTORNEY, ROOMS 1, 2, 3 and 4, Phillips block.

Domesticopathic Physicians.

S. S. SALISBURY, M.D., HOMOEOPATH, 1st dist. Office, rooms 11 and 12, Los Angeles, Cal. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

A. S. MOORE, M.D., HOMOEOPATHIST, 1st dist. Office, 182 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

J. MILLS BOAL, M.D., HOMOEOPATH, 1st dist. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

DR. BEACH & BOYNTON, OFFICE, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

DR. WHITWORTH, 30 N. SPRING ST., 1st dist. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

M. D. LUMMIS, M.D., OFFICE AND RESIDENCE, 207 1/2 S. Spring st. Telephone 650.

Obstetrics.

DR. J. ADAMS, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. In charge of medical and surgical department. Chronic diseases a specialty. Special attention given to the treatment of all female diseases, both medical and surgical. Office hours, 10 a.m. to 12 p.m.; 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.; 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. 120 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

DR. H. ARENSBERG, FROM THE University of Berlin. Private diseases a specialty; diseases of the blood, skin and general diseases. Successful treatment of all diseases. Office, 100 N. Main st., Los Angeles, Cal. Telephone 100.

DR. W. G. HARRISON, PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Specialty: Chronic and acute diseases treated by latest approved methods; also diseases of women and children. Office 397 N. Main st., near St. Elmo Hotel.

I. B. HAMILTON, M.D., PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON. Office, 127 W. First st., Telephone 173. Hours from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Specialty: sexual, skin and chronic diseases.

REBECCA LEE DORSEY, M.D., OF. 75 N. Main st. Attention given to diseases of women and children. Telephone 112.

GERMAN LYING-IN HOSPITAL: best of care for all patients. COR. ELEVENTH ST. AND MYRTLE AVE.

DR. BENNETT—248 1/2 S. SPRING ST.

DR. M. HAGAN, OFFICE 431 S. SPRING.

DR. BROWN, OFFICE, 215 1/2 W. FIRST ST. All private diseases, and diseases of women.

Specialists.

DR. HONG SOU THE FAMOUS CHINESE physician and surgeon, makes a specialty of all the various diseases of the head, throat, lungs, liver, stomach, blood, etc., etc. He has been practicing in Los Angeles for many years, and has a large number of patients. Office, 659 UPPER MAIN ST., P. O. Box 542.

DR. WONG THE WELL-KNOWN AND PRACTICED CHINESE physician and surgeon, makes a specialty of all the various diseases of the head, throat, lungs, liver, stomach, blood, etc., etc. He has been practicing in Los Angeles for many years, and has a large number of patients. Office, 659 UPPER MAIN ST., P. O. Box 542.

Veterinary Surgeons.

DR. W. J. OLIVER, VETERINARY SURGEON, graduate of Ontario Veterinary College, 123 S. BROADWAY, Tel. 544.

STATE OF THE CONDITION OF THE FARMERS' AND MERCHANTS' BANK OF LOS ANGELES.

At the close of business June 30, 1890.

ASSETS.
Cash on hand, $100,000 00
Cash on call with banks, 1,000,000 00
Total assets, $1,100,000 00
United States 4% bonds, stocks and warrants, 153,228 91
Loans and Discounts, 1,000,000 00
Real estate, vaults, safes and office furniture, 11,750 00
Total, $2,264,928 91
LIABILITIES.
Capital (paid up), $500,000 00
Surplus, 500,000 00
Undivided profits, 244,028 91
Due depositors, 2,520,899 94
Dividends declared and undistributed, 1,000 00
Total, $2,264,928 91
Herman W. Hellman, vice-president.
John W. Miller, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Los Angeles, being sworn to by the foregoing statement is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.
JOHN W. MILLER, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 24th day of July, 1890.
CHARLES WORTH, Notary Public.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES.

Capital Stock, $500,000 00
Reserve, $500,000 00
United States Depository.
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

CALIFORNIA BANK.

Corner of Broadway and Second Streets.
Capital, $500,000 00
Paid up, $500,000 00
Surplus, $500,000 00
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

LOS ANGELES NATIONAL BANK.

United States Depository.
Capital, $500,000 00
Reserve, $500,000 00
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA NATIONAL BANK.

NADRAU BLOCK, Cor. First and Spring Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

THE CITY BANK.

No. 12 SOUTH SPRING ST.
Capital, $500,000 00
Paid up, $500,000 00
Surplus, $500,000 00
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

THE UNIVERSITY BANK OF LOS ANGELES.

No. 120 N. Main St.
Capital, $500,000 00
Paid up, $500,000 00
Surplus, $500,000 00
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

THE NATIONAL BANK OF CALIFORNIA.

Spring and Second Sts., Los Angeles.
Capital, $250,000 00
Is fully equipped for every kind of legitimate banking, and solicits the accounts of all needing a banker.
BOARD OF DIRECTORS: Thomas B. Bard, Dr. W. L. Graves, R. F. G. Klokke, Geo. H. Sherman, Capt. Geo. R. Lemon, Dan McFarland, Fred Eaton.
J. M. C. MARBLE, President.
J. M. C. MARBLE, Vice-President.
J. M. C. MARBLE, Cashier.

STATEMENT SHOWING THE CONDITION OF THE MAIN-STREET SAVINGS BANK AND TRUST CO., OF LOS ANGELES, CAL.

At the close of business, June 30, 1890. Incorporated October 28, 1889.
ASSETS.
Cash on hand, $6,614 45
Due from banks and bankers, 20,320 48
Furniture and fixtures, 199,820 00
Expenses, 8,800 25
Bonds, 25,175 50
Total, $260,930 68
LIABILITIES.
Capital paid in coin, $250,000 00
Profit and loss, 2,070 77
Due depositors, 8,859 91
Total, $260,930 68

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, City and County of Los Angeles, ss.—J. R. Lankershim, president, and Frank W. De Van, cashier, of the Main-street Savings Bank and Trust Company, being severally duly sworn, each for himself says that the foregoing statement is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

FRANK W. DE VAN, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 30th day of June, 1890. H. E. STORRS, Notary Public.

UNSWEETENED PURE CREAM.

FOR Coffee, Fruits, Desserts, Ice Cream, And All Culinary Purposes.

To one part of "Highland Milk" add four parts of dairy milk, and obtain an excellent cream for all table and culinary uses less expensive than that supplied by dairies.

FOR SALE BY ALL WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS.

W. H. MAURICE,

No. 124 N. Los Angeles St., Los Angeles, Cal.,

SOLE AGENT FOR SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA.

J. DIFUSSI,

Maker and Repairer of Musical Instruments.

UMBRELLAS AND PARASOLS.

The advertiser has a long and fully creditable career in Europe and the United States, and does repairing personally in all cases in which the instrument is damaged. He has a large stock of umbrellas and parasols, and is constantly receiving new styles. He is a practical musician of experience, patrons can depend upon intelligent results. Musical instruments procured from the best and latest sources. Old violins a specialty. Importer of superior strings.

NO. 115 WEST THIRD STREET, BETWEEN SPRING AND MAIN.

GRAND SPECIAL SALE OF HIGH-BRED HORSES AND MARES.

From 2 to 5 years old. All gentles; 10 head broke to harness. Sale to take place at Panorama building, Main street, between Third and Fourth, on THURSDAY, July 25, 1890, at 10:30 a.m. The catalogue consists of 6 head of geldings and 11 mares. This stock on display at above place from 10 o'clock a.m. Wednesday, July 24th, up to hour of sale, Thursday, July 25th. Further particulars please interview J. W. NOTER, Auctioneer and Agent for owners, PANORAMA BUILDING, MAIN STREET.

STATE OF THE CONDITION OF THE FARMERS' AND MERCHANTS' BANK OF LOS ANGELES.

At the close of business June 30, 1890.

ASSETS.
Cash on hand, $100,000 00
Cash on call with banks, 1,000,000 00
Total assets, $1,100,000 00
United States 4% bonds, stocks and warrants, 153,228 91
Loans and Discounts, 1,000,000 00
Real estate, vaults, safes and office furniture, 11,750 00
Total, $2,264,928 91
LIABILITIES.
Capital (paid up), $500,000 00
Surplus, 500,000 00
Undivided profits, 244,028 91
Due depositors, 2,520,899 94
Dividends declared and undistributed, 1,000 00
Total, $2,264,928 91
Herman W. Hellman, vice-president.
John W. Miller, cashier of the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank of Los Angeles, being sworn to by the foregoing statement is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.
JOHN W. MILLER, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 24th day of July, 1890.
CHARLES WORTH, Notary Public.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF LOS ANGELES.

Capital Stock, $500,000 00
Reserve, $500,000 00
United States Depository.
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

CALIFORNIA BANK.

Corner of Broadway and Second Streets.
Capital, $500,000 00
Paid up, $500,000 00
Surplus, $500,000 00
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

LOS ANGELES NATIONAL BANK.

United States Depository.
Capital, $500,000 00
Reserve, $500,000 00
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA NATIONAL BANK.

NADRAU BLOCK, Cor. First and Spring Sts., Los Angeles, Cal.
J. P. SPENCER, President.
J. P. SPENCER, Vice-President.
J. P. SPENCER, Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Assistant Cashier.
J. P. SPENCER, Treasurer.
J. P. SPENCER, Secretary.

The Times

BY MAIL, $9 A YEAR.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 23, 1890.

BY CARRIER: (For Month $3)

THE TIMES IN PASADENA.

The advantage to residents of Pasadena in buying THE TIMES consists in the fact that they not only get in the volume of the news of their own city every day, but also the news of Los Angeles, of the State, the Coast, the East and the world.

The Times

BRANCH OFFICE, No. 26 1/2 E. COLORADO ST.

NOTE AND COMMENT.

READ in the next column how to support a wife on $30 a month.

ALTHOUGH a large number of extra copies of THE TIMES were brought to Pasadena yesterday, the supply was exhausted before noon. THE TIMES is the people's paper.

A FOOTRACE between such sprinters as C. W. Bell and W. H. Syme, and a trotting-race between two horses as speedy as Post Boy and Tom have proved themselves to be, are events worth going miles to see. And this is what hundreds of people will do next Saturday afternoon.

AN exchange says that "roads are among the signs of civilization, or among the best of its products," and we agree with it. Even old Rome knew this and built great highways all over its provinces with the imperial city as a central terminus, and ever since then the index to a country's civilization is found in the condition of its roads. What a monument to barbarism then is the highway that connects this city with Los Angeles. It is sad, very sad, that a road, traveled as this one is winter and summer, should be allowed to get into its present condition. Those who drive over it the most say it is "the worst road in the county," and these people ought to know. Cannot something be done, or does our sole chance of deliverance depend on the opening of the ever-closing but still uncertain Eagle Rock boulevard?

BREVITIES.

Rev. E. L. Conger will go to Long Beach today.

The Sunday visitors were not as numerous as usual yesterday.

Dr. Radebaugh and W. R. Staats return from Redondo this morning.

Some alterations are being made in the interior of the Eldridge block.

The usual Y.M.C.A. meeting was held yesterday afternoon in Stroug's Hall. It was led by L. E. Barnhart.

J. W. Polley and daughter returned from Catalina Saturday evening.

Reports a delightful stay on the island.

Rev. S. A. Gardner of Massachusetts preached an eloquent sermon yesterday morning before the Universalist congregation.

Rev. Dr. Bresse preached yesterday morning in the Methodist Church on "Man's Divine Environment." His evening subject was "Sunrise on Calvary."

The pulpit of the Christian Church was filled at the morning service by the pastor, Rev. A. J. Wood. His subject was "The Office of the Holy Spirit." There was no evening service.

SUMMER NOTES.

Catalina continues the happy summer hunting grounds for goats. Barley Flats is the place for bears.

This week Republican club will be organized here. The members will take it easy until Markham is nominated, and then begin work in earnest.

Today the crowds of Sunday excursionists will flock back from the shore, sunbaked and hardy, and go to work with a will to save up enough money to repeat the trip.

Russet leather shoes are not as much worn as formerly. They are being superseded by dark red Russia leather, fitted simply to the foot and as plainly and perfectly made as possible.

The majority of physicians are now agreed that sterilized milk is the best summer food for infants. The simplest and best method of sterilization is by boiling the milk, and then excluding the air to prevent a further access of germs. The milk is placed in perfectly clean glass bottles, which are kept in boiling water for fifteen minutes or longer, and then tightly corked.

Nationalist Club.

There was an interesting meeting of the society yesterday. Mrs. Sunderlin read an interesting paper showing the heartless abuse of employees by the employers engaged in the manufacture of cheap clothing and other products where woman and child-labor are used. The speaker also alluded to some of the ladies who are leading pioneers in the Nationalist movement.

L. H. Banister read a paper upon the theme, "Money—Its Object and Its Use." The speaker stated that the primal object of money was a means to facilitate exchange, and if no other use were made of it there would be but little trouble in the financial world. But speculation and the system of land-lordism are absorbing the wealth of our Nation. The speaker illustrated the origin of the national banks and how the people are taxed to support them. Near the close an illustration was given showing that had the widow's mite been cast into the treasury—say 1880 years ago—it would long since have absorbed the wealth of the world. The speaker stated that there can be no reform in this system as long as the masses worship millionaires, or as long as the masses hope to be millionaires; and this can only be cured by educating the people.

An Honest Boy.

Mrs. George D. Webster, who lost her pocketbook Saturday evening, containing $154, has recovered possession of her valuable property, and will leave for Salt Lake City today with a much lighter heart than she had Saturday night. A lad by the name of Boyd found the purse on the street and took it immediately to his mother, who lives in the eastern part of town. There it was opened and a check and papers contained among its contents showed to whom it belonged. Mrs. Webster was at once looked up and the money returned to her. The boy was rewarded for his honesty, and now everybody is happy.

The city assessment of Riverside this year is $3,762,800. This is $19,872 less than that of last year. This is not due to any shrinkage of value, but to the assessment having been made under a new and more equitable schedule.

A QUIET SUNDAY.

The Usual Events, with Little Out of the Ordinary.

CHEAP LIVING IN PASADENA.

How to Live with Your Wife on Thirty Dollars a Month—A Lost Pocketbook Recovered—Trotting Races.

The statement is frequently made that a family can live comfortably on less money in Pasadena than in any other town in the country. The Times reporter was impressed by the fact that this is indeed so by a conversation he listened to yesterday, which ran something like this:

"I don't see how half of the people in this town live." The speaker was an easterner who has been here about a week—long enough to become acquainted with some of the residents and the amount of their annual incomes. "There goes M—across the street," he continued, pointing in the direction indicated; "I knew him back in New Hampshire. Here I find him, living with his wife in a neat little suburban cottage and on thirty dollars a month salary. Bless my soul, it takes my breath away to think of it. One thing is sure, he'll soon drift hopelessly in debt, and then there is no telling what will become of him."

"Oh, no; he won't," said the other party to the conversation. "He's within his income."

"You don't mean to tell me a man can support a wife comfortably on $30 a month?"

"Let me give you some figures; then judge for yourself. Mr.—occupies a cosy four-roomed cottage fifteen minutes' walk from the center of town, and easily accessible by street car. He pays $5 a month rent. Don't look startled, houses can be rented for almost nominal figures. His water privileges cost him $3 a month. On an average his grocery bill for a three-days' stretch foots up a total of $10. For $7 he can get all the meat he wants, and good quality at that."

"Vegetables? Two dollars a month covers this portion of the living expenses. You needn't smile. Get hold of the right Chinaman and he will give you a head of cabbage, a lot of onions and radishes, and enough lettuce for two meals, and charge you a nickel for the lot. Fifty cents a week is all you need to spend for vegetables. The figures I have given you cover the actual living expenses of M— and his wife. They foot up a total of $27. M—tells me, however, that he gets along on $25. This leaves $5 a month over for fuel—don't burn enough in summer to keep any record of in the expense account—and clothing. Not a wide margin, I admit, but the men in Pasadena, you know, count themselves lucky if they can afford a triennial suit and the women make their own clothing and manage to buy the goods very cheaply."

The easterner appeared much impressed by what he had heard. He thought a moment and then ejaculated, "I'll be swizzled if I ever heard of so little money going so far. Next fall I'm going to bring my family out here to live, and although I don't expect to get along at the rate of $15 a month, I know I can save considerably on my present living expenses and besides be located in a land that furnishes the most comfortable all the year round life in the world."

A MENU CARD.

Exquisite Examples of Art-Allegorical Historical Representations.

A Pasadenaian who was present at the grand banquet given in the Academy of Music, Philadelphia, to national and foreign dignitaries at the constitutional centennial in 1887, showed to the TIMES representative one of the menu cards furnished on that occasion.

The card is an exquisite example of art, being composed of six leaves of heavy Japan paper, lightly tied with red ribbon and illuminated with delicate etchings painted in pale brown ink. The frontispiece is an allegorical representation of history enumerating the deeds of 1887. The second page contains the "proem," surrounded by several small etchings. The menu proper fills the third page. The list of dainty edibles and rare wines it contains passes description.

On the next page is the guest list. Among the speakers were Grover Cleveland, then President; Associate Supreme Justice Matthews, J. J. Ingalls, Fitzhugh Lee, Charles Francis Adams, Phil Sheridan, Stephen B. Luce, Sir Louis Playfair of Great Britain and Marquis de Chambrun of France.

But to the writers' mind the most valuable part of the exquisite souvenir is the last page, on which the possessor secured the autographs of the Governors of thirteen States. Some of the writers are of national reputation, and their different styles of chirography form an interesting study.

The Race Assured.

On Saturday H. C. Wyatt agreed to match his horse Tom against C. S. Martin's Post Boy for $100 a side under conditions mutually satisfactory to the owners, and posted $50 forfeit money. This makes the race a certainty, news which the sporting fraternity will receive with satisfaction. The race will be trotted next Saturday afternoon at the driving park. Half mile heats will be trotted, best three in five. Considerable outside money will change hands on the result.

The famous racehorse Shiloh died on Saturday at his owner's stock farm and fruit ranch about two miles from Julian. Shiloh was one of the most famous horses in the State, and was owned by James Madison.

Chief of Police Coyne of San Diego recently purchased a muzzle-loading pistol, which was manufactured in 1850. It is a well-preserved instrument of death, and measures about eighteen inches long.

The San Diego Sun states that the extreme hot weather has worked a great injury to the orange crop of Southern California. The extreme heat has caused thousands of oranges to fall to the ground.

WOMAN AND HOME.

Sweet Summering by the Side of the Sunlit Sea.

I am taking a little vacation and indulging in my dolce far niente in a pretty cottage by the sea. There is a wilderness of shade about me, and on a cedar tree beyond my window a mockingbird has just lighted and is singing his glorious song. And the white and red roses are running riot over my veranda, and the geraniums, full of their pink blossoms, nestle their tops upon the roof of the cottage, and look in at my chamber window as if to say, "We are doing what we can to make the world fair for you." And there is a beautiful passion vine that has climbed two-thirds of the way to the cedar's top, and is hanging full of its bell-like blossoms. I fancy I can hear a soft tinkle of melody as the wind stirs them, and they keep time with the song of the bird on the bough above them.

And below my window is a pool filled with lovely pond-lilies. They belong to my childhood, and take me back to green fields and shaded pools where they grew in the shadow of maple woods. But they are just as fragrant growing beneath the pepper and the palm and the solemn cedars. There are honeysuckles here, too, and such a wealth of other flowers, and peach trees hanging full of luscious fruit, and the apple bushes are heavy with red-checked apples, and the grape vines are climbing over the great arbor—full of fruit promise; and the locusts are swinging their green, round boughs in the sun and playing with the trickling breezes, and all life is very fair and restful.

My thought has been, ever since I came here for my month's outing, what a place this would be to bring up children in. Why do we not find cities lots more generally with trees and vines and flowering bushes, and why do we ever fall of the broad verandas, where we may sit all day in the shade of growing vines, and breathe the fragrance and freshness of the outer world?

A large outdoor life is such an easy thing here in California. With a good broad veranda, curtained with climbing roses, or wisteria, or the ever-fragrant honeysuckle, we have our summer parlor, our reading-room, our pretty dining-room—and summer lasts all the year here. It is only an occasional rainy day, when little gusts are blowing, that we might not sit in our vine-curtained room and breathe the fragrant freshness of all out of doors.

These moonlight nights we sit there until bedtime, and our thoughts broaden with the stars above us. Little children come and sit with us sometimes, and from our seats on this wide porch our thoughts are world-wide. We are growing away from the limitations of four walls, and life is very pleasant. Profiting by my experience here, I say to every home-builder among my readers, build broad porches; plant your trees; sow your flowers; let vines clamber to your roof, and their leaves let the birds build their nests; and their live outdoors as much as you may, and your health will be better and your lives mingle with its busy life, the fragrance of the garden parlor will go with them, and the pleasant talks will be remembered, and they will all serve as a shield against temptation and evil. There is nothing so potent in after life as the memories of a happy childhood.

STATE AND COAST.

A telephone line will be the next step in the progress of Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Hamblin, so long identified with the tank and surf bathhouses at Coronado, has now leased them.

Nearly one hundred and fifty thousand dollars' worth of new buildings are projected for Redlands during the coming six months.

David Balz has a contract on hand to furnish to a New Mexican cattle company one hundred and fifty head of Durham bulls.—(Phoenix Republican.)

The new hall of records at San Bernardino is now beginning to assume some shape, and the public can form some idea of what the building will look like when it is finished.

The Tucson citizen believes that unless some unforeseen accident occurs there will be a larger influx of population and capital into Arizona during the coming year than ever before.

E. J. Le Breton of San Francisco yesterday redeemed a tract of land near Alessandro which had been sold to the State for taxes, paying therefor into the county treasury the sum of $6190.

If health and beauty you'd maintain, And keep your breath a perfect charm, Use SODONT with milk and meat; For it alone prevents the germ That mars a woman's teeth and breath And leaves her mouth as dark as death.

BANKS.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

President, F. M. GREEN.
Vice-President, J. E. B. BULL.
Cashier, J. E. FARMER.

Capital paid up.....$100,000
Surplus.....$60,000

A General Banking Business Transacted.

UNCLASSIFIED.

WANTED—BY A COMPETENT GIRL situation for general housework. Apply 104 ELY AVE. DRIVE.

Legal.

Notice of Intention to Apply for Partition.

TO THE HON. YGNACIO SEPULVEDA, ex-Judge of the superior court of Los Angeles county, before whom Amado Armenia, defendant in the within-entitled matter, and who was committed to the State Prison at Folsom, California, to be imprisoned for the term of his natural life; and to P. Kelly, Esq., District Attorney of the county of Los Angeles:

You and each of you will please take notice that it is the intention of the undersigned to apply to the Governor of the State of California for the pardon of Amado Armenia, who was convicted in the Superior Court of Los Angeles county, on the 15th day of November, 1887, of the crime of murder, and sentenced on the 15th day of November, 1887, to imprisonment for life in the State Prison at Folsom, California.

Witness: RITA A. X. DE CAMPO, JOHN HONANIK, MARK

We, each of us, hereby acknowledge and legal service of the within notice this 18th day of June, 1890.

Ex-Judge of the Superior Court, FRANK E. KELLY.

District Attorney of the county of Los Angeles, California. By B. M. MARBLE, Deputy.

June 23, 1890.

Legal.

Notice of Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that in pursuance of an order of the Superior Court of the county of Los Angeles, State of California, made on the 24th day of July, 1890, in the matter of the estate of William Walsh, deceased, the undersigned, the administrator of the estate of William Walsh, deceased, do hereby give notice to the creditors of said estate, and to all persons claiming an interest in the same, that said estate has by operation of law or otherwise acquired other than in addition to that of the said William Walsh, deceased, at the time of his death, in and to all that certain parcel of land, situate in and to the city of Los Angeles, county of Los Angeles, State of California, bounded and described as follows:

Commencing at a point in the westerly line of Buckley street 125 feet northerly from the point of intersection of the westerly line of Tenth street with the westerly line of Buckley street, running easterly along the westerly line of Buckley street 50 feet to a point; thence at right angles southerly on a line parallel with said westerly line of Buckley street 50 feet to the place of beginning.

Terms and conditions of sale: Cash, gold and silver coin, or the order of any bank or other financial institution, payable to the undersigned administrator on day of sale, balance on credit of said estate, at the rate of ten per cent. per annum, interest to be paid in advance.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Deeds of the expense of purchase.

Lines of Travel.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC COMPANY.

IMPORTANT CHANGE OF TIME.

Trains leave and are due to arrive at Los Angeles and San Francisco, as follows:

Leave for.	DESTINATION.	Arr. from
9:30 p.m.	Banning	9:30 a.m.
10:30 p.m.	Banning	10:30 a.m.
11:30 p.m.	Cotton	9:30 a.m.
12:30 p.m.	Cotton	10:30 a.m.
1:30 p.m.	Teming and East	10:30 a.m.
2:30 p.m.	E. R. P. and East	10:30 a.m.
3:30 p.m.	Long Beach	11:32 a.m.
4:30 p.m.	L. Beach and San Pedro	8:15 a.m.
5:30 p.m.	L. Beach and San Pedro	9:15 a.m.
6:30 p.m.	Avalon, Catalina Island	4:30 p.m.
7:30 p.m.	L. Beach and San Pedro	4:30 p.m.
8:30 p.m.	Orlando, East	2:55 a.m.
9:30 p.m.	Orlando, East	2:55 a.m.
10:30 p.m.	Portland, Ore.	2:55 a.m.
11:30 p.m.	Riverside	9:20 a.m.
12:30 p.m.	Riverside	9:20 a.m.
1:30 p.m.	Riverside	4:20 p.m.
2:30 p.m.	San Bernardino	9:20 a.m.
3:30 p.m.	San Bernardino	10:00 p.m.
4:30 p.m.	Redlands	4:20 p.m.
5:30 p.m.	San Francisco	10:00 p.m.
6:30 p.m.	San Fran. & Sacramento	7:25 a.m.
7:30 p.m.	San Fran. & Sacramento	2:55 p.m.
8:30 p.m.	San Francisco	3:00 p.m.
9:30 p.m.	Santa Ana & Anaheim	4:04 p.m.
10:30 p.m.	Santa Barbara	3:06 p.m.
11:30 p.m.	Santa Barbara	3:06 p.m.
12:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	6:40 p.m.
1:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	8:33 a.m.
2:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	26:40 p.m.
3:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	8:40 a.m.
4:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	4:28 p.m.
5:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	5:55 p.m.
6:30 p.m.	Santa Monica	5:55 p.m.
7:30 p.m.	Tustin	8:55 a.m.
8:30 p.m.	Tustin	4:04 a.m.
9:30 p.m.	Whittier	7:28 a.m.

*Sundays excepted.
*Sundays only.
Local and through tickets sold, baggage and freight charges, and recreational tax made and general information given upon application to
J. M. CRAWLEY,
Room 200, S. P. Bldg., cor. Second.
CHARLES SEYLER, Agent at Depot.
A. N. TOWNE, General Manager.
S. P. BLDG., COR. 2ND ST., SEATTLE, WASH.

The Council meets at 10 o'clock this morning.

Yesterday was one of the duller days on record in police circles, not a single arrest being made.

The cable lines did a very light business during the day yesterday, as every one who was able to do so went to the seashore.

There are undelivered telegrams at the office of the Western Union Telegraph Company for Mrs. A. E. Mills and J. H. Marmon.

The Union League excursion returned home from San Juan last night, pretty well tired out, but thoroughly well satisfied with their trip.

The examination of Justice W. C. Lockwood on the charge of harboring James M. Dameron takes place this afternoon at 2 o'clock before Justice Savage.

The ladies of Grace M. E. Church have arranged for a "poor man's social" to be held this evening. Programs and ice cream. Admission, 25 cents. All invited.

The Board of Supervisors will today, after laborious work as a board of equalization, have a chance to transact accumulated business as a board of supervisors.

Wong Gun and the other Chinamen implicated in the murder which took place in Chinatown several weeks ago, when almost a riot occurred, come up for trial before Judge McKinley today.

Mary Anderson was brought up from San Diego yesterday by a deputy United States Marshal, charged with sending obscene letters through the mails. She was lodged in the County Jail until her trial before Judge McKinley, which will be today.

A letter has been received from Francis M. Smith, stating that there is considerable malarial fever on Hewitt, Rose, Geary and other streets of the thickly settled district east of Alameda street and south of First, and suggesting that a trip over the district would reveal many nuisances, the removal of which would check the sickness and save life.

A COWARDLY CHINAMAN.

Looked Up for Assaulting a Cripple.

At 8 o'clock last night Officer Ellis arrested a Chinaman named Charley Wong on Hill street and booked him at the police station for battery. Charley gave $50 bail and was released. The arrest grew out of Charley's playful habits. The heathen is in the habit of passing J. H. Hughes's residence at 235 Hill street, and whenever any of Mr. Hughes's children are in the yard Charley teases them. Last night Mr. Hughes, who is a cripple and has no use of his legs, spoke to the Chinaman and ordered him to leave the place. Charley became abusive and grabbed Mr. Hughes around the waist and threw him into the gutter. Officer Ellis happened to be at hand and placed the heathen under arrest.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

The Weather.
SIGNAL OFFICE, LOS ANGELES, July 27.—At 5:07 a.m. the barometer registered 30.4; at 5:07 p.m. 30.76. Thermometer for corresponding periods, 65°, 79°. Maximum temperature, 90°; minimum temperature, 62°. Weather cloudy.

A full assortment of Armour-Cudahy canned meats can be obtained at Jevne's. They are the finest on the market.

Box Bacon for sale at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy corned Beef at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy Tongue at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy ham at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy roast Beef at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy deviled Ham at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy potted Ham at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy potted Tongue at Jevne's.
Armour-Cudahy compressed Ham at Jevne's.

Armour-Cudahy special brand Lard at Jevne's.
Hex Hams for sale at Jevne's.

From ten to twenty teams have been engaged in hauling wheat to Lancaster, Attleboro Valley, this week. This state of affairs will be kept up for several weeks to come.

New England Clam Chowder at the Long Beach Pavilion. Daily trains 9:25 a.m., 12:35 and 6:10 p.m.

Government officials estimate that for the next twenty years Alaska will pay into the Government coffers $3,000,000 a year. Alaska cost $7,000,000.

Salad (Garden) Clams and Mussels, delicious for summer lunches, at H. Jevne's.

The Arizona Republicans say there would be millions in cold-storage sleeping-rooms. Two thousand tons of Huntley & Palmer's Waters, received direct, at H. Jevne's.

Swiss Wafers at H. Jevne's.
Four Riverside apricot-growers have received $30,000 for their crops this season.

Pear's Soap secures a beautiful complexion. Entire Wheat Flour, at H. Jevne's.

The apricot crop of Ventura county is estimated at four thousand tons.

Snowflake Flour makes the finest bread. R. Jevne, agent.

The Tucson Citizen thinks that the amount of copper deposits in Arizona is simply immense, and very likely incomparable in America, if not in the world.

Tourists' Lunch Goods in endless variety, at H. Jevne's.

Special Diabetic Flour, at H. Jevne's.

Redondo Beach is becoming very popular with San Bernardino people.

Only freshly roasted Coffees sold at H. Jevne's.

Diabetic Gluten Flour for sale at H. Jevne's. Wholesale and retail.

The ball game Sunday between the Santa Ana and Venturers resulted in a victory for the latter by a score of 15 to 10.

Mandarin Java and Arabian Mocha always freshly roasted, at H. Jevne's.

Granula, the great health food, for sale by all grocers.

A Sabbath-school was organized at Newport last Sunday.

EAST SIDE.

Improvement in the Cable Service—General Notes.

Passengers on the cable road can procure transfers in any direction—an improvement on the old management.

The Asbury M. E. Church will build a branch church in Happy Valley very soon. The lot was donated by Mrs. Dodson, conditionally that a church should be built, and the money is nearly raised to complete the building.

J. M. Foley and family of South Sichel street have gone to Newhall for a couple of months.

Rev. J. H. Phillips and Deacon Warner will leave for the mountains today.

Dr. Cox will take part in the camp meeting at Long Beach this week. He is one of the old soldiers of the Methodist Church that took a decided stand during the war in favor of the Union and for Methodism in St. Louis, Mo., and was the first to hang out the stars and stripes in that city. With a few thousand dollars, which was put up as an option, he purchased the finest church property in St. Louis and dedicated it to Methodism, and during his stay in that place he had secured and paid up in full for the finest church edifice in that city. He has dedicated the greater part of his life to the saving of souls, and now, in his declining years, he is building up a beautiful home in the San Gabriel Valley, where he can live in luxury and ease when he feels that his time has come to step down and out of the ministry.

Mrs. Harrow was up to spend the Sabbath from Santa Monica, where she has been for the past two weeks recuperating.

Mrs. Blaisdel and family left Saturday for Catalina to spend a few weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Langworthy and son spent the Sabbath at Long Beach.

Clayton White in a New Role.

Yesterday Clayton White, now in the middle tank in the County Jail, charged with breaking his former wife's collar-bone, took exception at the County Jail to some speakers on religion who had been advancing religious observations to the prisoners.

As spokesman for the prisoners he advanced his theories about the matters under discussion, and accused the speakers of hypocrisy. He spoke for some time, and greatly horrified the good people who had brought the gospel among them.

The Riverside Press says on Monday: W. H. Weimar closed the sale of the entire crop of grapes from 105 acres, owned by A. Kleinschmidt, at Rincon, to William Lusko, who is in this section representing a large fruit-house in Chicago.

It has been closely estimated that the entire apricot crop of Ventura county will be 4000 tons, or 8,000,000 pounds, which at one cent per pound (the lowest market price) will yield the sum of $80,000.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—U. S. Gov't Report, Aug. 17, 1889.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

There is nothing comparative or hesitating in their language when the official analysts, chemists and scientists speak of the quality of the Royal Baking Powder. "As good as," "harmless," "pure" are tame phrases to describe the superlative merits of this great baking powder. Whenever actual, scientific, practical tests are made, it is emphatically declared superior in its leavening strength, purity and wholesomeness. Witness the report of Prof. Wenzell, of the College of Pharmacy Department, University of California:

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19, 1889.

From actual analysis made by me, I pronounce the Royal Baking Powder to be the Strongest and Purest Baking Powder before the public.

It is entirely free from alum and other additions injurious to health.

W. D. McGeorge

Prof. Chemistry College of Pharmacy Dept. University of California.

Medical.

The Celebrated French Cure.

Warranted to cure "APHRODITINE" or money refunded.

Is sold on a POSITIVE GUARANTEE to cure any form of nervous disease or any disorder of the generative organs of either sex, whether arising from the excessive use of Stimulants, AFTER Tobacco or Opium, or through youthful Indiscretion, over indulgence, etc., such as Loss of Brain Power, Wakefulness, Hearing down Pains in the Back, Seminal Weakness, Hysteria, Nervous Prostration, Neurasthenia, Emission, Leucorrhoea, Dizziness, Weak Memory, Loss of Power and Impotency, which if neglected often lead to premature old age and insanity. Price $1.00 a box, 6 boxes for $5.00. Sent by mail on receipt of price.

A WHITE, EN GUARANTEE is given for every $5.00 order received, to refund the money if a Permanent cure is not effected. We have thousands of testimonials from old and young, of both sexes, who have been permanently cured by the use of Aphroditine. Circular free. Address

THE APHRODITINE MEDICINE CO.

H. M. S. A. L. E. & SON, 239 South Spring street.

J. W. A. OFF. cor. Spring and Fourth sts.

Dr. White.

PRIVATE DISPENSARY.

133 N. Main St., Los Angeles.

The celebrated Private and Nervous Disease Doctor, continues to successfully treat Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Yecocoe, Syphilis, torments, Loss of Sexual Power, Catarrhs of the Bladder and Nervous Debility.

Dr. White's treatment after the failure of other doctors and patent medicines. Effect centrally located and private. Cures guaranteed. Patients residing out of the city may be cured at home by English Private Dispensary, 133 North Main Street.

A Speedy Cure Warranted.

DR. BELL'S GERMAN EXTRACT

cures all private diseases, chronic, uric acid, skin and blood diseases, female complaints, and all such diseases as are brought about by indiscretion. Dr. Bell's German Wash cures all private diseases, blood poison, old sores and ulcers. G. & G. in 8 or 10 days. No preparation on either side. Write them. Book, full explanation and proofs mailed (sealed) free. Address ERIC MEDICAL CO. BUFFALO, N. Y.

FOR MEN ONLY.

A Positive Cure for General and Nervous Debility, Weakness of Body and Mind, and all troubles arising from early indiscretions. Robust health fully restored by absolutely unflinching home treatment; benefits in a day. Men desirous of it States, territories and foreign countries. You can write them. Book, full explanation and proofs mailed (sealed) free. Address ERIC MEDICAL CO. BUFFALO, N. Y.

Unclassified.

W. R. BLACKMAN, PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT AND AUDITOR.

Fellow of the American Association of Public Accountants.

Books opened and adapted to special requirements. Investigation and adjustment of books or complicated accounts. New books opened, sent and balance sheets prepared. Office, 115 NORTH MAIN ST., Los Angeles.

Jerry Misch RESTAURANT

OPEN DAY AND NIGHT

145 and 147 North Main Street.

his time has come to step down and out of the ministry.

Mrs. Harrow was up to spend the Sabbath from Santa Monica, where she has been for the past two weeks recuperating.

Mrs. Blaisdel and family left Saturday for Catalina to spend a few weeks' vacation.

Mrs. Langworthy and son spent the Sabbath at Long Beach.

Clayton White in a New Role.

Yesterday Clayton White, now in the middle tank in the County Jail, charged with breaking his former wife's collar-bone, took exception at the County Jail to some speakers on religion who had been advancing religious observations to the prisoners.

As spokesman for the prisoners he advanced his theories about the matters under discussion, and accused the speakers of hypocrisy. He spoke for some time, and greatly horrified the good people who had brought the gospel among them.

The Riverside Press says on Monday: W. H. Weimar closed the sale of the entire crop of grapes from 105 acres, owned by A. Kleinschmidt, at Rincon, to William Lusko, who is in this section representing a large fruit-house in Chicago.

It has been closely estimated that the entire apricot crop of Ventura county will be 4000 tons, or 8,000,000 pounds, which at one cent per pound (the lowest market price) will yield the sum of $80,000.

Medical.

CATARRH.

Throat Diseases, Asthma, Bronchitis and Consumption successfully treated by

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M.D.

M. D., C. P. S. O.

By his Medicated Inhalation and Compound Oxygen Treatment.

Probably no system of practice ever employed has been so universally successful as that introduced by Dr. Williams for the cure of Catarrh, Throat Diseases, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

CATARRH.

Catarrh is often regarded by the patient as a cold in the head, and as often expresses his astonishment at his remarkable tendency to contract fresh cold. Indeed he declares that he is scarcely from one cold before he takes another, and he is always exceedingly careful; it is also a matter of surprise to him that the cold always seems to settle in the head and throat.

At times many of the symptoms of catarrh seem to abate, and the patient is led to hope that the disease is about to wear off; but another cold or a season of dryness is felt in the throat, or it appears that some foreign substance, as, for example, a hair, is lodged in the throat; there becomes a sense of languor and fatigue; the breath becomes on a little aspiration, a short, hacking cough, a peculiar sound in clearing the throat, a feeling as though there was not room enough in the chest to breathe; these and other symptoms occur after the disease has made considerable progress. Then it is a time when consumption is about to begin its dreadful work.

CONSUMPTION.

The earlier symptoms of consumption consist in a weakness at times even to a disposition to remain passive, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effects of cold; also breathlessness upon moving or ascending stairs, a slight slight hacking cough with or without expectoration, flying pains throughout the chest or back or under the shoulder blades. These symptoms are more noticeable toward or in the night, slight fever in the afternoon. Cold feet and hands and in many cases a blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails. It is unnecessary to describe the symptoms in the more advanced stages of consumption, as there is scarcely a family in our State wherein this disease has not been felt in a greater or less degree.

Every case of catarrh is curable, when properly treated. Catarrh victims and invalids should avail themselves of the opportunity of being cured before they return home.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally, can write for a list of questions and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address

M. HILTON WILLIAMS, M. D., 301 1/2 South Broadway, Los Angeles, Cal. Office hours: From 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., and from 1:30 to 4 p.m., Sundays excepted.

Los Angeles Optical Institute.

N. STRASSBURGER

Scientific and Practical Optician. Strictly Reliable.

HAS REMOVED TO N.W. Cor. Main and First Sts.

WAGON MATERIAL, HARD WOODS, IRON, STEEL, Horseshoes and Nails, Blacksmith's Coal, Tools, Etc.

JOHN WIGMORE, 117 and 119 South Los Angeles St.

THE W. H. PERRY

Lumber and Manufacturing Company's

Lumber Yard and Planing Mills, COMMERCIAL ST. LOS ANGELES.

CHAUTAUQUA Assembly.

Redondo Beach.

Assembly from Tuesday, July 29th, to Friday, August 15th.

A BRILLIANT ARRAY OF ATTRACTIONS!

Superior Concerts, Able Lectures, Field Sports, Athletic Exhibitions, Illuminated Fireworks, Striking Tableaux, Sunday School Normal, C. S. C. Round Tables, Orchestral Concerts, Pyrotechnics, Piano and Organ Recitals, Speeches, Songs, etc.

LECTURES.

Among the prominent lectures to be delivered are the following:

"The Four Napoleons," illustrated by C. E. Bolton.

"The Sham Family," a novel by wit and satire—told under one bonnet—that makes sport of sham in all the walks of life.

"Hounded Germany and Harcote Louise," by C. E. Bolton. A lecture of the highest order and represented on large canvas in illustrations. Mr. Bolton will deliver other lectures upon "Russia and Romanoff" and "Land of the Midnight Sun."

"The Blind Man Riquet," Dr. W. H. Milburn, the blind chaplain of the House of Representatives, will deliver five of his world-famous lectures: "What a Blind Man Saw in England," "What a Blind Man Saw in Washington Forty Years Ago and What He Sees There Now," "The Mouth of Gold," "What a Blind Man Saw in Paris." Mr. Milburn will also preach one or two sermons during the session of the assembly.

"Military Genius," is the title of a lecture by Gen. L. A. Sheldon, to be given August 12th.

Jabu De Witt Miller. The very name of this popular lecturer is enough to provoke a smile, as he stands side by side with the other De Witt (Palmage) in versatility, humor and pathos. He lectures on "The Uses of Ugliness," August 3d; "Love, Courtship and Marriage," August 4th; "The Stranger at Our Gates," August 5th, and "Distinguished Men I have Met," on August 6th, closing with "Some Contemplative Characteristics," on August 8th.

"The Life and Times of Thomas Jefferson" is the subject of an able lecture by Stephen Bowers, Ph.D.

Col. Homer R. Sprague, Ph.D., the soldier, scholar and literatus, speaks on "John Milton," "Riches" and "Shakespeare."

In addition to these popular lectures, Dr. W. H. Pondenore gives three lectures on Scriptural study and interpretation: Rev. Dr. A. J. Frost, three lectures on the Book of Hebrews; Dr. David Reed likewise three lectures on Biblical themes; Rev. Dr. H. M. Du Bose conducts a course of lessons on the "Symbolism of the Bible."

Prof. Henry Ludlam directs a School of Oratory and Eloquence, one department of which is designed especially for the study of sacred oratory or pulpit elocution.

SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES.—Prof. Carlos Bransby of the Occidental University will, with the aid of competent instructors, conduct the School of Modern Languages. Lessons will be given daily in Spanish, French and German.

—TABLEAUX!—

"Ben Hur," the great religious book of the present generation, will be represented by twelve character tableaux, with appropriate scenery, costumes and lights. Songs by Tash and Iraz. Recitation in costume of extracts from the book, including "The Fallen Tile," "The Chariot Race," "The Healing of the Lepers." Dialogue between Arius and Ben Hur on the galley deck. About seventy-five characters will be used in the tableaux. The management will spare neither pains nor expense, and have engaged Prof. Henry Ludlam of Los Angeles to take charge of the production.

HUGO MANSFELDT.

The engagement of the great pianist, Hugo Mansfeldt, will attract the attention of all lovers of high-class music. Although this celebrated artist is a Californian, being a resident of San Francisco, he has gained a European reputation worthy of comment.

Special round-trip excursion tickets from all stations on Santa Fe Railroad, and also on the Redondo Railway to and from Los Angeles.

CHAUTAUQUA ANNUAL, with full programme, sent on application to all who apply to the secretary at Los Angeles, Cal.

Boots and Shoes.

CATCHY BARGAINS!

That are Receiving Popular Approval.

Every week sees our establishment endeavoring to place something new and attractive before the public. It is a pleasure to know our efforts are being appreciated. Every day sees our sales increasing. We hear no complaints from any of our patrons.

OUR BARGAINS ALWAYS WEAR WELL.

Every one well satisfied with their purchases.

THE STYLES ARE RIGHT, THE GOODS ARE RELIABLE,

And nothing old or shopworn is forced on intending purchasers.

This Week We are Selling

Infants' Fine Kid Button Shoes at 40 Cents.

Soft uppers, neatly made. Every shoe well worth $1 a pair.

This Week We are Closing Out

All of Canvas Button and Russet Shoes, for ladies, misses and children, at the exact cost price of each shoe.

We don't want to carry over a single pair. Every shoe at actual cost.

This Week We are Driving Slippers.

Ladies' Kid Oxford Lace Slippers, patent leather tip, $1.25. Very durable and neat.

This Week Only.

Ladies' Bright Dongola Kid Common Sense Oxford Shoes, $1.35; worth $2.

This Week Only.

Ladies' Goat Button Shoes, solidly made, $1.25; worth $2.

This Week a fine line of Children's Bright Dongola Kid Button Shoes, patent leather tips, $1.50. The dressiest and best wearing shoe made.

For This Week Only, Ladies' Hand-turned French Kid Button Shoes, at $3.50; worth $6.

Comment on this shoe is unnecessary. They sell at sight.

Here we are again. Men's Fine Gossamer Calf Shoes, all styles, regular value $5, this week $3.

AND REMEMBER, we run no branch establishments. Beware of cheap imitations claiming to be a branch of this house.

LEWIS'

The Leading Shoe House,

201 NORTH SPRING STREET.

GOOD GOODS AT THEIR VALUE.

REMOVAL NOTICE.

Seymour & Johnson Co.,

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL GROCERS,

Now at 216 & 218 S. Spring St., near Second.

A SPECIALTY OF FINE TABLE DELICACIES.

WM. S. ALLEN, FURNITURE WAREHOUSES,

TELEPHONE 34.

332 & 334 S. Spring St.,

IMPORTERS AND DEALERS IN

FURNITURE; AND: CARPETS,

BEDDING, WINDOW SHADES,

Silk and Lace Curtains and Portieres,

Curtain Fixtures, Cornices,

Upholstery Goods,

BABy CARRIAGES, Etc,

Newest and Latest Styles in the City.